What promises to be one of the biggest Halloween parades and costume contests ever held in Marion is scheduled by police tomorrow night.

The annual Halloween parade and party sponsored by Marion Lodge No. 24 of the Fraternal Order of Police is set to begin at 7:15 p.m.

The festivities begin with a parade which will start on W. Center St., go north on Main St. to Fairground St. and then to the Collseum at the fairgrounds, where the party will take place.

Highlight of the festivities this year will be the Marion County band contest and float competition. Bands from all the Marion County schools are scheduled to take part in the parade. They will all be judged and a trophy will be presented the best one.

Harding High School band will not be considered in the judging because of its bigger size.

$2,000 Worth of Prizes

Police have invited every child of school age to dress up in a costume and take part in the contest. More than $2,000 worth of prizes have been contributed and will be awarded. Prizes include everything from bicycles to nylon stockings.

The parade will line up on W. Center St. near the Central Junior High School. City police, state high patrolmen, City Police Auxiliary, and members of the sheriff's department will be on hand to handle the crowd and assist the parade participants in lining up.

The costumed participants will line up on W. Center St. west of the old Junior High School building. Officers will be on hand to direct children, bands and floats to their places. The floats will assemble on the Central School grounds and will fall into the line of march as directed.

Motor Driven Floats

This is the first year motor driven floats have been permitted in the parade. The only rules are that they must be not more than 10 feet wide and eight feet high

Allies Drive Forward In East Korea

Attacking Chinese Beaten Back; 2 U. S. Fighters Shot Down

U.S. 8TH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea, Oct. 30—(AP)—Allied infantrymen in eastern Korea beat back an attack near Heartbreak Ridge by 1,000 Chinese in predawn darkness today, then drove ahead 1,000 yards in daylight.

On the western front United Nations forces gained more than half a mile northwest of Yonchon with little trouble.

Reinforced Chinese who had hurled day-long attacks at the Allies southeast of Kumsong in the center of the line Monday made only two small probing attacks Tuesday. Both were turned back.

In the air war Communist antiaircraft guns shot down two American planes Tuesday — an F-80 Shooting Star jet and a reconnaissance plane. The Fifth Air Force said there was "no chance of pilot survival."

For the second straight day Red jet pilots refused to fight American jets over MIG alley in northwest Korea. American airmen said they spotted 60 MIG-15s, but the Reds kept out of range.

Increase Ground Support

Fighter pilots stepped up their flights in support of ground troops to 131 Tuesday.

Accuse Reds Of Stalling In Truce Talks

MUNSAN, Korea, Oct. 30—(AP)—A United Nations truce negotiator said today "We're busting our guts trying to get this war settled" but the Reds are making "no attempt to get a reasonable solution."

The statement came from Maj. Gen. Henry I. Hodes, chairman of the U.N. truce subcommittee, during a recess in the sixth joint subcommittee session at Panmunjom.

The negotiators met three hours but failed to make headway toward creating a Korean ceasefire line. Another meeting is scheduled for 11 a.m. Wednesday.

Brig. Gen. William P. Nuckols, U.N. spokesman, said:

"The Communists continued to press for their proposal which would trade indefensible territory in west Korea in the Ongjin area for important military positions along the battlefront. No progress toward a solution was made."

At Panmunjom, within sight of bursting Allied shells, Hodes said the Communists "have made no trade, no offer, no attempt to get a reasonable solution."

Air Service Fight Opens Before CAB

Robinson, Bray, Dowler at Hearing In Washington

Proponents of local air service in Ohio and Indiana, including Marion representatives, argued their case today before the Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB), The Associated Press reported from Washington.

Led by the Ohio Aviation Board and the Aeronautics Commission of Indiana, a number of cities in the two states have objected to recommendations made by CAB Examiner R. Vernon Radcliffe last September, following a week-long hearing on applications by several airlines. The board itself will rule later.

One of the lines, Lake Central, is proposing to extend its system of local air service operations into Ohio. The line now flies to points in Indiana, Michigan, Illinois and Kentucky.

Arguing Marion's case today are J. B. Bray of the Chamber of Commerce aviation committee, Mayor Harold F. Robinson and former Mayor Harry Dowler.

Radcliffe has recommended rejection of Lake Central's bid for permission to operate local air service, which would link Ohio's chief cities with each other and with important gateway cities in surrounding states.

Contends Potential Low

The examiner urged the board to turn down the Lake Central applications—and one by Youngstown Airways, Inc., on grounds that there is not enough potential business on the proposed lines. He also contended that the government would have to support this service through payment of heavy mail subsidies.

The Ohio Aviation Board contended in a brief filed after Radcliffe's report came out that evidence presented in the case has fully demonstrated the need for local air service in Ohio.

Several of the affected cities told the board in their briefs that the short-hop air service is needed to fill the gap left by deterioration or lack of adequate surface transportation.

In addition to recommending rejection of the Youngstown Air-

Third Atomic Blast Set Off In Nevada

Spot Bright Glow, Towering Cloud In Sky; Feel No Shock

LAS VEGAS, Nev., Oct. 30—(AP)—The third atomic detonation in the Atomic Energy Commission's current test series — a bright glow in the sky northwest of here—went off at 7:01 a.m. (PST) today.

It was the largest of the present series, which has included a baby blast from a tower and a slightly more spectacular drop from a plane.

About a minute after the flash, a column of mushrooming cloud litterally shot up into the sky.

White Light

The light itself was white, much like a giant camera flash bulb. There was a light purple tinge at the start.

The mushroom was a beautiful thing, observers agreed. The

City Receives Award Tonight

Marion Honored In Religious Movement

Arrangements have been completed for the public meeting at Trinity Baptist Church tonight at which Marion will receive a national award for outstanding service in the Religion in American Life campaign of last year. The award presentation will be made at 8 o'clock by Charles P. Taft of Cincinnati, a member of the National Laymen's Committee sponsoring the RIAL movement.

Accepting the token of honor will be Dr. G. G. Nuetzel and Rev. R. W. Faulkner, co-chairmen of the local RIAL 1950 drive. Attending will be representatives of the three major faiths concerned in the movement. Judge W. Dexter Hazen of the Municipal Court will introduce Mr. Taft. There will be special music by the Marion Serenaders. A dinner at Hotel Harding for the RIAL committee, Mr. Taft, and guests will precede the meeting at Trinity Church.

McKinney Expected To Relieve Boyle

Agrees To Accept Democrat's Offer Of Chairman

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 30—(AP)—Frank E. McKinney, an Irish banker who pulled Indiana Democrats out of the red in 1948, is all set to become the Democrats' next national chairman—a fund raising job—tomorrow.

The 47-year-old son of a fireman announced last night that he had agreed two days before to accept the party's top job.

Just a few hours earlier, the outgoing chairman, William M. Boyle Jr., gave McKinney his support, explaining that he'd talked with President Truman about the matter.

That indication of the President's approval made McKinney's choice a virtual cinch when the Democratic national committee meets in Washington tomorrow.

McKinney himself, who has dabbled in baseball, radio, real estate and even pipelines on the side, was sure enough of his election to check airline schedules for commuting between Indianapolis and Washington.

He said he plans to stay in Washington from Monday through Thursday each week and spend his three-day weekends with his family and at Fidelity Trust Co., a bank he has served as president since he was 30 years old.

Full-Time Work

After Jan. 1, the schedule would change to permit full-time work

End Boycott Of Military Piers in N. Y.

Only Small Dent In Longshoremen's Wildcat Strike

NEW YORK, Oct. 30—(AP)—Insurgent stevedores ended their boycott of military piers today, but otherwise, there was only a small dent in the dock strike that has immobilized the world's biggest port.

For the first time since the billion-dollar, 16-day waterfront shutdown began, defense loading and unloading jobs apparently were fully manned by regular longshore crews.

Picket lines disappeared from the military docks in Staten Island, Jersey City and at Brooklyn's huge army base, where more than 500 rebel strikers streamed back to work.

But elsewhere along the miles of idle docks, pickets still marched Only on one Hudson River pier did non-strikers succeed for a second day in circumventing the picket barriers.

At Pier 90, where the big British liner Queen Elizabeth, is berthed, two gangs of longshoremen went past a jeering, pushing mob of 250 strikers held back by police.

Fights Flare

Here and there, fistfights flared about the dock, but there was no general disorder. Police detained one picket temporarily.

The more than 20,000 strikers here and in Boston, are in revolt against a new contract and have defied orders of Joseph Ryan, president of the A.F.L. International Longshoreman Association, to return to work.

But while Ryan was being challenged by his own East coast stevedores, he himself was challenging the leadership of West coast longshore boss, Harry Bridges.

In San Francisco, a new Ryan dock local today signed a contract with the Isthmian Steamship Co., breaching the domination that Bridges' union has held on west coast stevedore contracts.

John J. Sampson, leader of the wildcat dock strike, agreed yesterday to the lifting of the blockade of military cargoes, but said strikers "will stand united and continue the strike" against other shipping.

Company Direction Centered Here

Strelitz Elected Board Chairman Of Power Shovel

The board of directors of Marion Power Shovel Co., at a meeting yesterday in the company's office here, took the following action:

1. Elected J. Malcolm Strelitz of Marion as chairman of the board.

2. Declared a dividend of $14 per share applicable to arrears on the company's preferred stock.

3. Declared a fourth quarterly dividend of $1.75 per share on the preferred stock.

4. Reported earnings, after taxes and current dividends, of $863,804 for the first nine months of this year.

Company officials said these developments are in line with plans announced last June when, through the transfer to Chicago and Marion interests of a substantial amount of company stock, steps were taken to centralize the company's direction in Marion and to remedy some of the company financial problems that were a carryover from the depression years.

J. MALCOLM STRELITZ

The election of Mr. Strelitz to the chairmanship of the board fills a vacancy that has existed for several months. Mr. Strelitz, has been a member of the board of directors for many years, and is senior partner in the law firm of Strelitz, Halberstein and Mitchell, which is legal counsel for the company. He has served at various times as a member and as chairman of the board's executive committee.

Mr. Strelitz is active in the management of a number of other businesses and industries in Marion and vicinity. He is president of the Marion Metal Products Co., vice president of the Swan Rubber Co. of Bucyrus, vice president of the National City Bank of Marion, a director of the Huber Manufacturing Co., and a number of other business concerns.

Mr. and Mrs. Strelitz and daughter Judy live at 1054 Mt. Vernon Ave.

As board chairman, Mr. Strelitz succeeds Charles R. Stephenson of New York, who resigned several months ago.

The $14 per share dividend on preferred stock arrears authorized yesterday is the first move to reduce a financial obligation incurred largely in depression years, the company reported. This obligation arose through inability of the company to pay dividends on its preferred stock resulting in an accumulation of these dividends which as of Oct. 1, 1951 amounted

Find 7 Dead, 5 Missing At Buffalo

Freighter's Skipper, Pilot Stay at Posts, Die To Save Crew

BUFFALO, N. Y., Oct. 30—(AP)—At least seven men were dead and five missing today after the flaming collision of three vessels in Buffalo harbor.

A charred mass of bodies was found this morning in the cabin of the tug Dauntless. Three bodies had been recovered earlier.

The Great Lakes freighter Penobscot rammed the loaded oil barge Morania shortly after 9 p.m. (EST) last night, and the barge exploded. Its 800,000 gallons of gasoline showered the freighter and the tug, which was pushing the barge.

The 454-foot, 6,500-ton freighter was one of the largest on the Great Lakes.

Coast Guard Probing

The cause of the accident was not determined. The harbor was dark, but the night was clear. The Coast Guard and owners of the craft were investigating.

The Penobscot, which had unloaded a grain cargo Sunday, was leaving the harbor for Detroit and Duluth. The barge was inbound.

The Coast Guard said the pile of bodies found on the tug accounted for the six members of the crew that had been listed as missing. The body of one unidentified tug crewman had been found earlier. The captain escaped with minor injuries.

Capt. Louis Guyette of the Penobscot and his helmsman, Roy Richardson, 56, both of Port Huron, Mich., died heroically in the freighter's pilot house. Their bodies also were recovered earlier.

At first, the Coast Guard reported 14 missing and three known dead.

At least 13 of the 40 crewmen reported aboard the three vessels were injured, apparently not seriously, the Coast Guard said.

Stay at Posts

Captain Guyette and his helmsman stayed at their posts to back the freighter away from the burning barge. They rammed their vessel's stern into a dock, so that several crewmen were able to slide down a rope to safety.

"The captain saved us, the captain saved us!" screamed Jimmy Hassette, an 18-year-old deckhand shipping for the second time. Tears streamed down his cheeks.

Edward Myers, 57, a watchman on the Penobscot and an old hand on the lakes, described his skipper's heroism:

"The old man and Roy stayed in the tower, put her in reverse and sent her back toward the dock. They were both dead when we rammed the dock. I tied a line and about 12 of us slid down it."

The bodies of Guyette and Richardson were found in the forward deckhouse.

Flames Leap

Thousands watched firemen battle the blaze during the night.

The flames leaped about 300 feet skyward and swept over the barge, the tug and the fore section of the freighter.

An orange-red glow bathed the North Harbor area and was reflected for miles across this Lake Erie port.

After the fire on the Penobscot had been extinguished, the vessel was towed to a shipyard in another section of the harbor.

The freighter is owned by the Nicholson Transit Co. of Detroit.

"I Could Spit," Says Tone--- And Does

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 30—(AP)—Franchot Tone, the movie actor, went to jail today accused of spitting in the face of a veteran movie columnist, red-headed Florabel Muir.

The booking was suspicion of battery, on a citizen's arrest signed by the newspaper and magazine writer. The incident occurred at Ciro's, night club on the Sunset Strip.

Miss Muir told police the actor, new husband of actress Barbara Payton, came to her table, muttered something uncomplimentary, then said:

"Florabel, I'm so mad I could spit in your face. As a matter of fact, I will."

He did.

The columnist said she slapped him and he kicked her on the shins. She summoned sheriff's deputies, who took him into custody.

Sgt. John Norris said Tone told him: "Sure I spit at her, but I didn't kick her. It's just been one provocation after another with her."

Royal Couple In Montreal

MONTREAL, Oct. 30—(AP)—Montreal, Canada's biggest city, today whipped up what it hoped would be the biggest and loudest welcome of all for its royal visitors.

Striving to outdo rival Toronto's huge reception earlier in the royal tour, the city arranged for Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh a tour through 75 miles of streets and nine events on this first full day of their visit here.

Last night gave them a taste of its bilingual enthusiasm. An estimated 50,000 onlookers cheered the royal visitors on their first appearances here after their arrival from the west by plane.

Tomorrow Elizabeth and Philip fly to Washington for a two-day visit.

Churchill Acts To Fill Cabinet, Names 4 More

Britain Awaits First Moves on Problems Of Finance and Food

LONDON, OCT. 30—(AP)—Prime Minister Winston Churchill today named four more members to the cabinet with which he hopes to lead Britain out of the economic and international crises now facing her.

Churchill also appointed two junior ministers to the government.

London newspapers wondered, meanwhile, when the Tory chief would make his first domestic policy move. One paper summed up Churchill's most pressing home front problems as "the kitty and the kitchen"—finance and food.

New Ministers

The new cabinet ministers are:

Harold MacMillan, 57, wealthy book publisher, minister for housing and local government;

Lord Leathers, 67, industrialist, secretary of state for coordination of transport, fuel and power;

Harry F. C. Crookshank, 58, minister of health and deputy leader of the House of Commons;

James Stuart, 54, a son of the Earl of Moray, named minister for Scotland.

The two junior ministers named were Patrick Buchan-Hepburn, 50, as parliamentary secretary to the treasury, and Selwyn Lloyd, 47, minister of state for foreign affairs—the No. 2 man to Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden in the Foreign Office.

MacMillan's first job will be, to work toward the Tory target of 300,000 new homes a year. Lord Leathers, former minister of of war transport, will deal with policies of the departments of transport, fuel and power. Ministers

British Block Road to Cairo

CAIRO, Egypt, Oct. 30—(AP)—The British cut traffic for five hours today on the highway between Cairo and Ismailia, British base at the mid-point of the Suez Canal.

Egyptian officials linked the stoppage with government confirmation that the Egyptians are forming underground "liberation battalions."

There was no immediate explanation from the British for their ban, which the Egyptians said was in effect from dawn until noon.

Britain's troops holdings tight control of the strategic waterway were told by their commander today that "We will stay until the Egyptian government returns to its senses."

Erie Wins "Oscar" For Annual Report

NEW YORK, Oct 30 — The "Gold Oscar" for the best 1950 annual report of all industry was awarded to the Erie Railroad last night at the annual awards dinner at Hotel Statler sponsored by Financial World magazine. Over 5,000 annual reports representing most of the industries in the United States were judged in the survey.

In accepting the top award, Paul W. Johnston, Erie's president, said "America's capitalistic system is the only way for peace, progress and dignity for the individual There is no more lasting way to 'sell' the system than have it belong through stock ownership rather than collectivism."

Pointing out that private ownership of business and industry is essential to individual freedom, Mr. Johnston told the 1,200 businessmen assembled at the dinner that management must strive for more effective means of communicating economic information and broadening corporate ownership. "Every American a shareholder will also mean, every American a more enlightened capitalist," he added

Mr. Johnston said the annual report is the principal means of communication between a company and its shareholders and it should "tell the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth." He pointed out that annual reports have been slowly rejuvenated from formal statements understandable only by accountants, to interesting readable publications which have "as much influence on Main street as on Wall street."

"Anything management can do to make its reports more interesting and easier to understand is a step in the right direction because it is true that what people don't understand, they don't trust," Mr. Johnston declared.

He explained the award of the gold "Oscar of Industry" was especially significant to the Erie Railroad this year as it is celebrating the centennial of the completion of the original main line which linked the Great Lakes with the sea in 1851.

Need For Information

"Railroad management is particularly conscious of the need for keeping shareholders informed because ours is an industry subject to governmental regulation of rates and other matters affecting the return on shareholders investment," Mr. Johnston said. "It is an unfortunate fact that the earning power of railroads has been so restricted through regulation that there have been virtually no new issues of stock offered for sale in the past 15 years. The lack of sufficient earnings makes it necessary for railroads to turn to debt financing to enable the industry to modernize and keep pace with the nation's industrial and military needs.

The Erie Railroad president said the situation created by government-regulated earnings adds strength to those favoring nationalization of the industry. He pointed out American railroads, among the few in the world which are still privately owned, offer the lowest rates and operate their properties at the greatest efficiency.

ANCIENT HIDEOUT FOUND

UPTON, Mass. —(UP)—A huge stone "beehive" lies buried beneath the farm of Charles Pearson here. Scientists say the structure must have been built centuries ago, although they do not know by whom. The mysterious 12-foot high room lined with granite apparently once was connected to a series of tunnels running beneath the back yard of Pearson's home The owner said, "Some think Irish priests exiled from Iceland built the place, or maybe it's a Norsemen's cave or perhaps it was the work of mound builders"

RUTH GORDON, born Oct. 30, 1896 in Wollaston, Mass., is one of the American theater's best known actresses.

She starred both in Broadway plays and Hollywood films, after hard study and a hard climb past such jobs as film extra and taxi dancer.

"I hadn't any illusions about my ability, I only thought if other people could learn to act, I could."

Miss Gordon also wrote several plays, which were produced on Broadway.

Ohioan Hits Servicemen's Voting Rules

McGregor Cites Need for Greater Secrecy Safeguards

Rep. J. Harry McGregor (R-Ohio) said today there seems to be a serious need for greater safeguards of secrecy in the "actual marking of the ballots" by service personnel away from home, The Associated Press reported from Washington.

Present regulations, McGregor said in a newsletter, require servicemen and women to show their unmarked absentee ballots to an officer with the rank of sergeant or higher. The serviceman or woman then must vote in the officer's presence.

McGregor said there have been many objections to their procedure, even though Ohio regulations specify that voting should be done "in such a manner that the officer cannot see how the ballot is marked."

"The procedure of an officer supervising every step of this voting process seems alien to our democratic principles," McGregor declared.

"There is no reason why the balloting cannot be conducted the same as in civilian voting booths back home, with no need for an attesting signature."

McGregor, who has been surveying Ohio and national election regulations, also objected to the requirement that a serviceman must wait until after the first day of the election year to apply for a ballot.

"If a man overseas must wait until Jan. 1 to send in his vote application," the Ohio Republican said, "it is apt to take six months for the application to reach him and be returned in time for the election."

McGregor suggested that it might be time for the military services to "set up voting places with ballots for each state in the Union."

As he had previously done in a House speech, McGregor called for simplification of the voting procedure "for the millions of men and women away from home in the armed forces."

McGregor represents the 17th Ohio District which includes Delaware County.

LAST RESCUED FROM BUS. Last to be removed from the wreckage of a Greyhound bus which went through a heavy guard rail of the San Francisco Bay bridge approach at Oakland, Calif., is 11-year-old James Pete Smith, of Vallejo, Calif. Heavy jacks within the flattened bus made it possible to extricate him. James kept asking for his mother, who was also injured in the crash.

Blame Drunk Sailor in Fatal Bus Wreck

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 30—(AP)—A "very drunk" sailor has been blamed for the Greyhound bus tragedy which killed seven persons and injured 22 just before dawn Sunday.

Wayne Petty, chief traffic investigator for the Oakland police Department, said laboratory tests showed that Navy Boatswain Mate Orville C. Russell Jr., was in a highly alcoholic state when his car smashed a concrete abutment on a ramp of the San Francisco Bay Bridge.

That crash hurled a huge concrete block into the path of the bus, causing it to blow a tire, careen through the guard rails and plunge 40 feet to the ground.

A freighter sailor who said he was driving behind Russell—Robert Sanders—said Russell was traveling about 35 miles an hour.

"Without putting on his brakes or apparently making any effort to avoid the chash, Russell drove smack into the concrete abutment," Sanders told police.

Capt. J. B. Shaffer, head of the California highway patrol's bridge detail, said Russell would be prosecuted for drunken driving if he recovers. The sailor is in serious condition. His car rolled on top of him when it bounced off the abutment.

MY WEIGHT WAS A BURDEN UNTIL I LOST 20 POUNDS

Mrs. Ray Jackson, Box 207, Lexington, Ohio writes: "My weight was a burden until I learned about Rennel. Through the use of Rennel I have lost 20 lbs. Now I can do my work so much better and at the same time feel much better. I am so thankful I tried Rennel, and wish everyone overweight would give it a try."

Thousands of others have overcome the social and physical discomfort of being overweight with this effective home recipe. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Rennel Concentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill the bottle. Then take two tablespoonfuls twice a day. That's all there is to it. No diets to complicate your meal planning. No expensive vitamins to fortify your system from weakness while going without food for you can eat normally. If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple easy way to lose pounds of bulky fat and help regain slender, more youthful curves—if reducible excess fat doesn't seem to disappear almost like magic just return the empty bottle to the manufacturer for your money back. Insist on Rennel.

A High Honor for Marion

NATIONAL recognition of Marion for its outstanding participation in last year's Religion in American Life Program can be regarded as one of the most notable honors ever to come to this city.

This newspaper has with extreme pride and satisfaction given the news of this award a top place in its columns. We have appraised it as one of the best news developments coming to our attention in a long time, certainly most pleasing and gratifying in comparison with the accounts of crime and other demonstrations of human waywardness and strife which too often must be reported to readers.

Sometimes newspapers are criticized for publishing details of those unpleasant happenings revealing the frailities and transgressions of men and women. The fact is that most of this criticism is unjustified. The obligation of newspapers is to report the full and complete human story from day to day and in doing so the faults and misdeeds of humanity cannot be ignored. The Bible does not omit such details, neither does it gloss them over nor minimize them as unimportant in the record of what people do, whether it be good or bad.

But even so, newspapers do not wish or strive to emphasize or give prominence to reports of crime and other lawless acts. They by far prefer bringing good news to readers. Much is published about preparations for war but the greatest and most thrilling story of all would be tidings of peace. Columns are written about clashing ideologies and even religious differences, but newspapers would much rather convey to readers reports of progress toward human agreement and mutual understanding.

That is why this newspaper has been more than happy to know about the distinction the community it serves has gained by its contribution to the Religion in American Life program. This movement, in which laymen of virtually all religious faiths in this country are aligned, provides possibility of achievement in human relationships that is without limit. That is why it has been given a foremost place in our news columns.

Tonight presentation of the national award to Marion for the distinguished service of its churchmen in this great interdenominational religious program will be made by Charles P. Taft, son of President William Howard Taft and a former head of the Federal Council of Churches. The presentation will take place at Trinity Baptist Church, starting at 8 p.m. It is a public meeting, open to everybody, and everybody should be there to join in an event that is truly one of the most important in Marion's history.

Will There Be a Deal?

DEPARTMENT of Internal Revenue agents are not sure how they will collect the new 10 percent federal tax on bookmakers. Congressmen who voted for the tax did not vote for increases in the number of federal tax collections.

Here is a situation made to order for the kind of people who keep track of opportunities for corruption. Since most bookmakers operate outside the law anyway, they and their legal advisers will not be squeamish about trying to make deals with overworked revenue agents.

The bookies' objective will be to buy protection from interference—even the possibility of interference. Until recently, it was an unchallenged assumption that corruptionists never had reached the federal tax collections, but that assumption no longer can be made. From now on, thanks to the "discovery" by the Senate crime committee that local government can be corrupted by racketeers and hoodlums who know their way around, the same racketeers and hoodlums have a powerful incentive to learn more about the federal government.

Education for Defense

UNIVERSAL military training, now before Congress in the form of a recommendation by an official commission, never will be debated on its merit. Outcome of congressional discussion will be influenced by a wide assortment of related issues. That is as it should be in a republic, certainly as it must be.

If universal military training could be dissociated from all other issues—such as economic, educational and sociological consequences—it would be regarded as a program of education for defense.

It would be seen that the issue is whether or not the federal government should have authority to pre-empt a span of time in the life of every young man for training in national defense. At present, the government asserts that right only in emergencies and then for potential duty in combat, not merely for training.

There would be added to state authority to compel a minimum of academic education a new kind of federal authority to compel a minimum of military education. Whether or not this should be done is the essential issue in the proposal for universal military training.

The British Election

By David Lawrence

Results Interpreted One Way and The Other

WASHINGTON

ANY ELECTION which changes the man at the helm of the British government is bound to affect relations with the United States.

While some politicians on the Republican side here profess to see a trend away from socialism, and the Democrats believe that the program of reforms adopted by the Labor government will not be essentially changed, the fact is that American conservatives — whether they be Democrats or Republicans — will take heart from what has happened in England.

LAWRENCE

Curiously enough, Stalin will derive considerable encouragement, too. For the "left wing" in the Labor government, which wants America to reduce her armament and appease the Communists in China and Korea, has come back with a strong voice at the polls.

As Stalin looks around the world, his cause thrives on friction inside the democracies. The rise of "left wingism" is grist to his mill. The "left wing" strength in Britain is such that, if the Conservative government fails, the next prime minister will not be the moderate Attlee but the radical and Socialist—Aneurin Bevan.

Winston Churchill will doubtless plead here for support on an economic and financial basis, using the argument that unless his government is helped to grow stronger with the people, Britain will be further and further toward the "left."

THE BRITISH government is, indeed, in need of help because her economic situation is not as rosy as it has been painted. The disasters in Iran and Egypt will not diminish the external expenses of Great Britain but will increase them materially.

All in all, the British electorate is torn into three parts — the Conservative under Churchill, the Moderates or middle-of-the-roaders among the Laborites under Attlee, and the radicals under Bevan. The contest for supremacy has by no means been settled by the election. It may be, as happened in the early '30's when Ramsay MacDonald, as prime minister, left the Labor party to join in a coalition government, and again during the war when Attlee came into the Churchill cabinet, the majority of the British people will insist on a coalition government to see Britain through the present world crisis.

Plainly the Conservative strength plus a substantial section of the Labor party would give a coalition government an overwhelming majority. It is on foreign or external issues that such a coalition would be forced because on domestic issues some of the major differences are all but irreconcilable. It could be, however, that Churchill, who is a master of compromises, will woo to his side more and more of the moderate Laborites even on domestic questions. But if he doesn't choose to follow that strategy, he will be compelled to crystalize the issues for another test of power a year hence in the hope that Conservative strength with the people will have been enhanced by a year of Churchill's rule.

IT NOW IS expected that Great Britain and America will work more closely than ever before. Former Prime Minister Attlee in his decisions has been constantly under the necessity of keeping an expedient eye on his "left wing," and hence he has been growing weaker and weaker in dealing with America. The "left wing" has been anti-American. Churchill, with a solid Conservative majority behind him, will have no such handicap and will not appease the "left wing," confining his compromises toward the moderate Laborites.

Concretely, a settlement of both the Iranian and the Egyptian problems will be sought by Churchill. The skill of the Conservatives as negotiators will be tested to the utmost. But a steady hand in the British foreign office, guided by the resourceful Churchill, may be looked for to cement relations between the United States and Britain in whatever Joint policies may be evolved for the Middle East. Britain, in a broad sense, gains on external policy by switching to Churchill now.

What the future may be in the way of a strengthened or weakened British economy is not so readily appraised, and the danger of economic deterioration — as hoped for by Stalin — has not been removed by the entry of Churchill, because he takes over an already badly disintegrated economic system.

DEAR NEPHEW: I don't know when there has been a more perfect October than this one and I am lapping up every dewdrop and moonbeam. Remind me of this when the weather turns bad and I begin to groan and grouse about man's misfortunes.

Speaking of misfortunes, I want to try my hand at an allegory about misfortunes. I cannot recall that I ever tried an allegory before.

Once there was a patient, God-fearing farmer who inherited a horse from a departed relative. He was in no position to refuse the bequest because his own horse had died only a few days before and he was going to need a new one to help him run the farm.

But from the very first day, when the new horse shied away from its own shadow, the farmer had deep doubts about the value of the bequest. He had a hunch that free horse he never had asked for was going to cost him a pretty penny before he was through.

The patient, God-fearing farmer was right. The first winter he had the free horse, it leaned against him when he was walking between it and the side of the stall and cracked one of his ribs.

No sooner had the rib healed than the awkward horse stepped on the patient farmer's toe one day when he got too close. As a matter of fact, it was an accident, the same as the other. But it happened. So did the broken wagon and the twisted tackle on the hay fork.

That horse just could not get the hang of doing what it was supposed to do. It lacked the sure touch. When the time came to plow, the horse would not follow the furrow. When it was time to cultivate, the horse stepped on the young corn.

If hitched to a buggy, it would let the buggy drift backward when the passengers were getting out. It moved by fits and starts, always starting too suddenly and stopping too suddenly.

If the horse was hot, it would try to founder itself at the trough. It tangled itself up in barbed-wire fence. It scuffed its own forelegs with its own feet.

When the patient farmer had it fitted out with ice calks to give it sure footing during the winter, it fell down and then cut itself to ribbons trying to get up. It refused to stand still when it was being harnessed, then refused to step out when the harness was secure. Unless watched closely, it would bolt for the barn door before the tugs were loosened, and once when the patient farmer tried to ride it because the mud was deep he was thrown off and his back was wrenched severely.

His patience was wearing out. People kept giving him good advice about what he could do to improve the free horse he never asked for, and for a time he had high hopes they might tell him something he could use. But finally he realized the only way to keep that horse from killing him was to turn it out to pasture and buy one of his own choice. Since it had cost him nothing in the first place, he would lose nothing by not using it, whereas he would be lucky if he didn't lose his life by expecting too much of it. So the patient farmer found a horse that knew its way around and put the free horse where it could do no further damage.

Give my regards to the family and tell the boys the Thanksgiving turkeys are going to have wishbones this big. Your Aunt Effie sends her regards too.

Weighing It Down

The Case of Philip Jessup

By Raymond Moley

LITTLE will be heard of Philip Jessup until congress meets in January, but the questions he raised linger on. Harold Stassen in this affair has performed one of the outstanding services of his long career in politics. In this highly controversial testimony he brought out 10 very important facts, nine of which were subsequently proved and admitted, and the tenth, which is still in dispute, may well be proved later.

The gist of these proved charges indicates that Jessup was an influential and at times the dominant member of the State Department faction that favored a soft and conciliatory policy toward Communist China, that frustrated the efforts of the Chinese Nationalists to retain their ascendancy, that decided to let Formosa fall, and that neglected the plea of India in 1949 to provide for them a small amount of our surplus wheat. The famous White Paper, which was a biased and incomplete report on the Administration's China policy, was edited by Jessup.

MOLEY

According to Stassen, 1945 and 1946 were two very bad years in our foreign policy. In those years Acheson, Jessup and Hiss were the three most important factors in making foreign policy. There followed, according to Stassen, two fairly good years, in which Acheson was out of the Department. Jessup's association was limited, and Hiss was out. Then, when Acheson returned, Jessup did too, and things turned bad again.

BACK OVER the years before 1945, Jessup manifested a remarkable habit of joining all sorts of movements—committees, organizations, and sponsorships. In these his carelessness permitted him to get into pretty doubtful company: All this was revealed before Stassen offered his testimony.

On the record Jessup is certainly not shown to be a Communist or a faithless government servant. His chief sin is lack of sound judgment. Like many others who conceive themselves to be liberal and broad-minded, he manifested a lack of insight into people with whom he associated himself—a lack of the jealous care which a responsible person ought to have in dealing with vital international problems.

On this background, Jessup's capacity to serve the nation must be judged. It must also be judged on the background of his high and distinguished academic background.

HE HOLDS ONE of the highest positions in the academic world, the Hamilton Fish Professorship in International Law in Columbia University. People who hold academic positions of that kind, like journalists, should not indiscriminately join committees and movements. They enjoy the rare privilege of complete freedom to express individual opinions. Hence, they should always speak and act as individuals, not through miscellaneous round-robins and the like.

When men in such academic positions serve the government, as they have the right and duty to do, it should be for specific assignments and for limited periods. They should not become a part of a faction in a political government.

The greatest of Jessup's predecessors in the Hamilton Fish Professorship was John Bassett Moore. In his long career his eminence and detachment from faction was so great and his ability so recognized that he served at various times and in many capacities in the Administrations of Cleveland, Harrison, McKinley, Theodore Roosevelt, Taft, Wilson, Harding, and Coolidge. But never was he a partisan member of any of those Administrations.

THAT GREAT EXAMPLE was there for Jessup to see, to know, and to follow. His bad judgment led him to ignore it. And he has impaired his place not only as a scholar and expert, but as a public servant.

The other day a man whose knowledge of public affairs is not wide, but who reads the headlines and has lots of common sense said: "Isn't there anyone in this big country who can serve as well as Jessup? Is he indispensable?" The answer is obvious.

The President should have realized that the issue is not the vindication of Jessup. It is to have good service from people who enjoy public confidence. Public office should not be used to vindicate anybody. Public office is for public service.

Congress Quiz

Q—Is Congress serious about rainmaking?

A—Yes. Three Senate committees—agriculture, commerce and interior—held a series of meeting ending April 5 and as a result nine senators Oct. 8 introduced a bill calling for a federal commission to evaluate rainmaking experiments. Among other things the bill would require private rainmakers to turn over to the commission their confidential reports on experiments.

Q—I don't understand the terms "appropriation" and "authorization." Just what is the action by which Congress spends money?

A—Congress first passes a bill "authorizing" the spending. At that time it says what the money is to be spent for and who is to supervise the program. Before money is made available, however, Congress passes a second bill which actually "appropriates" the money from the treasury.

Q—How much does it cost to run Congress?

A—For fiscal 1952 the House and Senate agreed in a total of $35,217,714 — $22,822,109 for the House and $12,395,605 for the Senate. This is $45,155 more than the $35,172,559 Congress allowed itself for the year ending last June 30. Most of the money is for salaries of the lawmakers ($12,500 salary plus $2,500 expenses yearly) and congressional employes.

Q—Are servicemen going to get an increase in pay?

A—Secretary of Defense Robert A. Lovett Oct. 5 asked Congress for a 10 per cent pay boost for all military personnel. It would cost about $800 million a year. The cost of living made the increase "urgent," he said. The House Armed Services Committee immediately planned to start hearings, but the corresponding Senate group postponed action until January.

Marion County History Brevities

By EDNA S. DUTTON

Prior to 1828 residents of the village of Marion who were of the Presbyterian faith belonged to congregations of Delaware, Liberty and Radnor in Delaware County. On Sept. 1, 1928, a meeting was held in the old brick schoolhouse on North Prospect street. Ministers present were Rev. Henry Van Deman and Rev. Ahab Jenks. On Sept. 9 of that year the church was organized with 46 members. The same year a charter was granted the society by the General Assembly of Ohio. The first elders were Joseph Boyd, Shubael W. Knapp and Adam Uncapher.

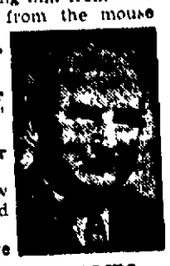
Mervin, the U.N. Mouse

A MOUSE was found in the all-steel skyscraper home of United Nations the other day. This column recognized him at once as Mervin, the International Mouse, and proposes to keep him in U.N. interviewing him from time to time on operations there from the mouse viewpoint.



PHILLIPS

"What are you doing here?" we demanded.

"That question might well be asked of plenty of delegates," snapped Mervin.

"But the U.N. is no place for mice," we said.

"I guess you didn't follow the session on Iranian oil," said the mouse.

"How did you get in?" we demanded.

"A recess appointment, but I expect McCarthy and Stassen to do something any minute," he replied.

"Don't be facetious. Everybody in U.N. is supposed to be very serious."

"Sometimes I wonder."

"Listen," we said, "this building is supposed to be mouseproof."

"Then how did the rats get in?" said Mervin, nodding in the direction of certain delegation. "Where's the cheese kept in this joint?"

"That's a question for the Swiss and they have no delegation here," we explained.

"Where's the kitchen? A mouse must eat, you know."

"Any discussion of that is violation of the procedural rules," came a loud voice. (It was from a Russian envoy.)

"Why?" asked Mervin, the U.N. Mouse.

"Cheese is not on the agenda," snapped the Russian.

"Okay, I'll take the usual baloney," said Mervin, with sarcasm.

It was clear that the mouse intended to become one more headache for U.N.

"Do you wish to add to the problems of this organization?" we asked. "Are you willing to hamper world peace?"

"Don't tell me I am a threat to peace," said Mervin. "All I ask is to be let alone to develop my own resources in my own way with nobody infringing on my rights. Nationalism marches on!"

"You have no rights here without credentials," said the Polish delegate.

"Anybody with troubles has a right to bring them here," said Mervin. "Don't turn me down or I'll appeal to Mrs. Roosevelt."

"Did you get in here in a basket of food or how?" we asked.

"I came in the prepared statement submitted by Dr. Mossodegh," said Mervin.

"How could you do that?"

"It was full of holes," explained Mervin.

* * *

A. this point Trygve Lie appeared with a cat. Mervin simply leered at it.

"Not afraid of a cat, eh?" we said. "How about the veto?"

"That," said Mervin, scampering into the text of a long speech by Sir Gladwyn Jebb and trying to find the meat of it, "is different!"

News of Other Years

TEN YEARS AGO—It was Thursday, Oct. 30, 1941.

John L. Lewis announced that the United Mine Workers had accepted President Roosevelt's proposal for reopening the strike-bound captive coal mines and added that the men would return to work as fast as arrangements could be made locally. President Roosevelt proposed that the mines be reopened pending further consideration of the issues involved in the dispute by the full membership of the mediation board. Under the President's suggestion, neither side would be committed to accept the board's recommendation.

The United States destroyer Reuben James was torpedoed and sunk west of Iceland, the first American warship lost since the European war began, and President Roosevelt crisply told a press conference the attack would not change United States policy.

Costumed in gowns of the "Gay '90's," members of the Y.M.B. Club entertained their husbands at a Halloween party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Bull of 286 South High street.

Appointment of Mrs. Jennie Ewing of 841 East Center street as deputy grand matron of District No. 11, Order of Eastern Star, was made public at the closing session of the four-day annual convention of the Ohio Grand Chapter in Columbus.

Scoring in the final minutes of the game, St. Mary High School gridders won over a heavier Lima St. Rose eleven at Lima, 20-18. The Saints' star halfbacks, Dave Rochford and Bob McGinnis, led the Irish in an aerial and ground attack.

Central Junior High School copped the city junior high football championship for the fifth straight year as they romped to an 18-6 win over Edison at Harding stadium.

TWENTY YEARS AGO—It was Friday, Oct. 30, 1931.

A Columbus youth was arrested, suspected of being one of four gunmen who a week before held up the Farmers' Deposit Bank of Richwood and made off with $10,000.

Hoke Donithen and W. D. Brown, both members of a delegation from the Marion Chamber of Commerce, appeared before the federal hospitalization board in Washington in an effort to have a proposed new veterans' hospital located near Marion or at some other place in the Eighth Congressional District.

Voter Meeting

candidates present, the meeting turned to special issues which will be before the voters election day. Speakers explained the issues, which were then discussed informally in a question and answer session with the audience participating. Arthur Haas, Y.M.C.A. secretary, acted as moderator.

School Levy

The four-mill tax levy for operating expenses of the city schools was explained by Lester L. Dickey, school superintendent, who cited three main reasons the board of education is requesting approval of the levy.

These were 1.) There will be 1,000 more pupils in the school system in the next four years, necessitating employment of at least 27 additional teachers. 2.) The average income of Marion teachers last year was $600 under the state average, and their pay should be increased. 3.) Although the teacher pay is low here, the board of education spends more of its dollar on salaries than any of the city school systems in Ohio, meaning that its budget for maintenance is exceptionally low and buildings suffer as a result.

Robert T. Mason, chairman of the city recreation commission, explained the three-fourths mill levy for recreation purposes. The levy will raise $24,000 a year during its five-year life, enabling the commission to employ a full-time recreation director and considerably improve the city's recreation facilities with the purchase of new equipment, installation of basketball and badminton courts, baseball diamonds and the like throughout the park system. City Council has appropriated $11,000 a year for parks and recreation of which the recreation commission receives $2,900, nearly all of which goes for salaries of summer park directors and assistants. If improved, the levy will free Council from that appropriation and give the commission funds with which to launch a full-scale program.

Sewage Plant Bond Issue

The $600,000 bond issue for rebuilding the city sewage treatment plant and the half-mill levy for plant operating expenses were explained by Floyd G. Browne, consulting engineer. He traced the history of City Council's earlier effort to provide the necessary funds through issuance of mortgage revenue bonds, an effort which was nullified in a referendum last fall. Pros and cons of the mortgage revenue plan and the general obligation plan which will be voted on Tuesday were brought out in his talk and a discussion which followed.

Proponents of the mortgage plan like it because of its flexibility in that bonds can be paid off by a sewer service charge, which also will provide funds for maintenance of the sewer system.

Opponents don't like it because of its flexibility, preferring the traditional general obligation system wherein a specific amount of money is voted for a specific purpose, with the knowledge that the real estate tax will cease when the bonds are paid and the levy runs its course.

The meeting opened with an address of welcome by Mrs. Kenneth Koechig of the League. Following singing of the Star Spangled Banner and the Pledge of Allegiance, the candidates were introduced by Mrs. Harold Fetter. Mrs. William Fretz then introduced the special issues and turned the meeting over to Mr. Haas.

Wheat Flakes Bread Perfect for Sandwiches

A SURE WAY to rate an "A" on Junior's slate is to pack new ideas into his lunch—the kind that will be eaten and enjoyed to the last crumb. And since the "main dish" of the lunch box is usually sandwiches, what better or more welcome idea can you have than this new kind of bread.

Home-baked bread always rates high marks from the family and this particular loaf is the kind that will bring forth that "Gee, Mom, you're a swell cook" compliment from the children. It's a good substitute for the morning cereal, combines well with a variety of fillings, and makes a delicious snack at afternoon tea—and those are just a few of the ideas that put it at the head of the class of bread recipes.

WHEAT FLAKES BREAD

2 cups sifted flour
2½ t double-acting baking powder
1 t salt
½ cup sugar
1 egg, well beaten
¾ cup milk
3 T molasses
3 T melted shortening
½ cup chopped raisins, if desired
1 cup wheat flakes

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, salt and sugar, and sift again. Combine egg, milk, and molasses. Add to flour mixture, add shortening, then mix only enough to dampen flour. Fold in raisins and cereal. Bake in greased 8x4x3-inch loaf pan, in moderate oven (350 F.) 1 hour, or until done. Cool. Wrap in damp cloth or waxed paper and store several hours or overnight before serving.

Your Good Health

Treatment of Atomic Radiation

Since the dropping of atomic bombs on Japan, medical science has been seeking methods of dealing with injuries inflicted by this newest of modern weapons. Progress in these studies has been rapid, so that today we would by no means be helpless in the face of an atomic attack.

The greatest source of severe and lasting injury following the explosion of an atom bomb is radioactivity. Early recognition of exposure to radiation is very important in the treatment of such casualties, and it must be remembered that everyone within a mile radius of the point of explosion may sustain radiation injuries.

Those who show signs of radiation sickness should be put at complete rest in some institution or hospital equipped to make blood studies, since the chief damage is likely to be sustained by the blood. Both white and red cells are affected.

Antibiotics, such as streptomycin, aureomycin and terramycin, should be given by mouth in order to prevent ulceration of the bowel and bleeding. A substance known as rutin, to prevent excessive weakness of the capillaries or small blood vessels, may also be advisable.

All patients receiving radiation injury should be watched carefully for the development of other diseases, such as pneumonia and kidney infections. A device known as a Geiger counter, which clicks where radioactive substances are present, is helpful in definitely diagnosing an atomic radiation injury.

People in a radioactive area where a bomb has been dropped should remove all of their clothing and wash thoroughly with a detergent before leaving the radioactive zone. Those entering the zone should not touch any substance that might contaminate them. Special shoes and gloves should be provided that are radioactive-resistant.

All food and water should be examined with a Geiger counter before being used. If a mist or dust is present in the zone that has been exposed to radioactivity, a wet handkerchief, or preferably a gas mask, should be worn over the mouth and nose to prevent the breathing in of atomic particles.

Blame Wiring Defect For $200 Home Fire

Defective wiring was apparently the cause of a fire which started yesterday afternoon in the Paul Neal home at the end of Kentucky Ave., east of the city limits. The house was empty when the fire started, as Mrs. Neal had gone downtown about 2 p.m. Neighbors saw smoke and turned in the alarm at 3:54 p.m.

Loss was estimated at $200 by Fire Chief Owen Sifritt.

Firemen from the Central and E. Mark St. stations answered the call.

Three accidents and four arrests yesterday were reported by the state highway patrol.

Delaware Won't Pay Conservancy Funds

COLUMBUS, Oct. 30 —(AP)— James A. Sampson, Delaware County auditor, has until Dec. 1 to turn over $626 to the Scioto-Sandusky Conservancy District, or prove why he doesn't have to do so. The state Supreme Court made this ruling yesterday. Delaware County is one of 17 counties in the conservancy district. The $626 was collected in assessments from property owners. Sampson has refused to turn the money over to the district treasurer, C. T. Lindbloom told the court.

Marion Garden Center Notes

CHRYSANTHEMUMS

The last big garden show of the year is now being staged by the chrysanthemums.

By choosing some late varieties it is possible to have mums for Thanksgiving and occasionally even later. When the last big killing frost threatens, gather the last ones and store them in a garage or cool basement. This will make it possible to have flowers for two more weeks.

This is the time to visit the growers' fields to select varieties for spring delivery. You will enjoy growing some of the spider and anemone types and also those that can be disbudded successfully, such as Major Bowes and Mrs. Kidder.

The bride is the former Miss Barbara Jane Groll, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Groll of near Marion and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Kennemur of Little Rock, Ark.

A lace cap held her bridal veil of nylon net and she carried white carnations on a white Bible, the latter a gift of her maternal grandmother. Her jewelry was rhinestone earrings and matching necklace, the bridegroom's gift.

The machine grinds them and blows them back to the ground, where they are of value as a soil conditioner.

Today's Fashion Flash

NEW YORK

A LADY need not look like a "creep" in her sleep this year. Dutchess lingerie has put out the "Komfy Kap" which guarantees to bring out her glamour and cover up her pin curls.

The "K.K.," sheerest of all nightcaps in fashion history, is made of a wisp of nylon, lavishly shirred with elastic thread. It is made in the form of a band—three inches wide, unstretched—which is looped around the curls and tied in a bow at its ribbon-ends.

When the elastic shirring is stretched, the cap will expand as wide as six inches, easily concealing the most elaborate of hair-pin, curler or chignon arrangements.

It comes in six colors, is tagged at $1.50, and is also recommended by the makers for wear in open cars on windy nights.

TOO MANY FISH

SPRINGFIELD, Mass.—(UP)—There are too many fish in Massachusetts' ponds and lakes for good fishing, according to Britton C. McCabe, chairman of the Springfield College biology department. After a survey of the various waters, Dr. McCabe found the best fishing was in lakes most heavily fished—not in those seldom visited by anglers and over-populated by fish. He said over-population makes for poorer species, thus poor fishing.

School Enrollment Growing

More Teachers Needed In City School System

This is one of a series of articles explaining the need for passage at the Nov. 6 general election of the four-mill tax levy for city school operating expenses. The articles were prepared by a Citizens Committee formed to promote passage of the levy.

ENROLLMENT in the Marion City Schools has increased gradually in the past few years and reached a total of 5,900 this year During the next four years the number of pupils is expected to rise sharply. The Bureau of Educational Research predicts that we will have an additional 1,000 pupils in our schools within the next four years This added enrollment will mean the employment of 27 additional teachers and the purchase of additional books and supplies.

The budget for the 1952 school year shows a deficit of $26,000 without any increase in the number of teachers. Present classrooms are crowded to capacity. The only way for our Board of Education to provide full time schooling for our elementary children is the employment of additional teachers.

The four and five-year-olds in communities all across America outnumber any age group now in school. The teacher supply will be critical in the years just ahead. School systems must be able to compete for qualified teachers if they hope to maintain the quality of their school program.

Approximately 30 per cent of the income from the new four-mill levy will be used to employ these new instructors. For many years Marion has never failed to provide teachers for her children We hope our voters will not now fail the 1,000 youngsters who are looking forward to their rightful school experience in the years just ahead.

POLICE BAR PICKETS AS LONGSHOREMEN RETURN TO WORK. New York City policemen (right) hold back surging crowd of pickets (left) to permit about 100 longshoremen wishing to return to work, to enter Pier 90, Hudson River and 50th St., where Liner Queen Elizabeth is docked. This incident was the first major break-through of a picket line by longshoremen wanting to work since the dock strike started in New York 15 days ago.

McKinney

in Washington through the election campaign.

McKinney told reporters one of the conditions of his acceptance was his promise to resign as an officer of the U. S. Pipeline Co which is trying to get steel priorities from the government.

Boyle figured in Senate investigations of alleged political influence in loans from the Reconstruction Finance Corp. He insisted, however, that he did nothing wrong and gave his health as the reason for his resignation, which he announced Oct. 13.

McKinney said he agreed to resign his office in the pipeline company and to dispose of all his stock. He described himself as a "large stockholder" in the firm

"Furthermore," he said, "I'll state here and now that so long as I am national chairman, no company which I am affiliated with or interested in will ever enter the doors of a government bureau or agency seeking favors or considerations of any type or character."

The petroleum administration said the pipeline company's request for priority for 100,000 tons of scarce steel can't be considered before Jan. 1 because all 1951 steel is already earmarked

McKinney's sudden rise to the doorstep of the Democratic party's top job has been typical of his life. As a lanky Catholic boy, he managed a crack semi-pro baseball club, the Sacred Heart Young Men's Club, which took the eye of Donnie Bush, former major league shortstop and manager.

"Bloody 13th"

That got his into politics because Bush was also a power in Democratic politics in the "bloody 13th ward" on the south side of Indianapolis and wanted to groom potential leaders.

Within 10 years he had worked his way up from bank bookkeeper to cashier Two terms as county treasurer brought him large fees, which his friends said gave him his financial start.

He said he'll continue his bank job and his interests in Indiana radio stations, including WISH, Indianapolis. He has sold the interest he once held in the Pittsburgh Pirates and most of his stock in the Indianapolis Indians.

The Democratic party got him into state politics in 1948 because it was broke and out of political control. He raised almost $225,000 and the Democrats won the state administration.

McKinney resigned as treasurer of the Indiana Democratic committee last March and has been devoting most of his time to his bank.

His father, Roscoe A. McKinney, is fire chief of Indianapolis.

The McKinney's have four children—Claire Marie, 18; Robert, 15; Frank E. Jr. 12; Margaret Kathleen, 10 months.

Excise taxes collected on cosmetics by the federal government during 1950 show that almost 44 percent of the total was garnered from three states: New York, California and Illinois.

This Check Artist Well Paid

PAID FOR being a clever check artist—and the world beats a bath to his studio door—is John C. Wenrich, 58, who works in a farm studio near Henrietta, N. Y., a suburb of Rochester His art work decorates checks used by banks and business firms throughout the world.

Wenrich's pen and ink drawings of imposing buildings and historical sites used to illustrate checks were featured in a trade display at the American Bankers Association convention in Chicago. As a consultant for the Tood Co., one of the nation's leading check printers, Wenrich has furnished backgrounds for more than 1,000 series of checks. In 35 years he has produced 129 countryside scenes, including wheat farming, sheep raising, cattle ranching, and vegetable gardening.

An architectural artist, he is known in the art world as a color renderer. He takes a blueprint of a building and creates a color painting to show what the building will look like when it is erected.

Judge W. Dexter Hazen will be unopposed for re-election as judge of Marion Municipal Court. He lives at 647 Oak St. Another unopposed candidate on the non-partisan ballot will be Kenneth Tobin of 278 S High St. He is seeking re-election as township clerk Mr Tobin is assistant cashier of the Marion County Bank.

Three men are seeking three positions on the Marion Board of Education. The unopposed candidates are E. Paul Bachman of 607 King Ave., cashier of the National City Bank. Daniel W Brickley Jr. of 377 Mt. Vernon Ave., a local physician and Charles D. Harmon of 450 Elmwood Dr, a Marion attorney.

Special Issues

Five special issues also will be voted on by voters in Marion These include a $600,000 bond issue, three tax levies and a proposed amendment to the Ohio Constitution.

The $600,000 sewer bond issue is for rebuilding the sewage disposal plant here

A three-quarter mill operating levy for current expenses at the disposal plant also will be before the voters. The bond issue needs a 55 per cent vote to pass while a 60 per cent majority is needed by the levy.

School Levy

A Four-mill levy also has been placed before the voters by the Marion School Board. The levy has been declared necessary to provide additional operating expenses. A 60 per cent majority is needed for passage.

The other tax levy is a one-half mill levy approved by City Council for additional recreational funds. Money from this levy would be used to expand and improve the city's playground and park system A 60 per cent margin is necessary for passage

The final issue is a statewide vote on a proposed amendment to change the Probate Court procedure throughout the state. Under the amendment, some counties would be allowed more than one probate judge, according to their population.

Spokesmen for the Marion County Board of Elections reported today only one change had been made in polling places throughout the city. Voters in Precinct A of the Second Ward will vote at the Willis E. Dixon residence at 236 Oak St. They formerly cast their ballots at the Central Junior High School Building.

Voters To Decide Next Tuesday

Proposed Bond Issue 2nd Attempt To Solve Local Sewage Problem

This is the first of two articles dealing with the $600 000 sewer bond issue which will be voted on at the Nov. 6 election.

Marion voters will be asked to vote for or against a $600,000 bond issue for reconstruction and expansion of the local sewage disposal plant at next week's election.

The need for sewage plant improvement in Marion is well recognized. But the method of financing the improvement has been a point of debate.

Latest indication of this need was a recent complaint by the state against the dumping of untreated sewage into the Scioto River. The Silver St. trunk line dumps untreated sewage directly into the river. At peak loads, even sewage processed at the sewage plant is only partially treated, creating a menace to health in points downstream.

If the disposal facilities are not improved, the city could easily be named defendant in a suit filed by the State Department of Health. Should a verdict be returned against the city, a fine of $500 a day could be levied until definite action was taken to remedy the problem.

THE BOND ISSUE is the latest step taken by City Council in its effort to improve the local sewage system. The bond issue, if passed would provide funds for the construction of a virtually new disposal plant.

Also before the voters will be the three-fourth mill levy to provide operating expenses at the new plant.

To pass, the bond issue needs a 55 per cent favorable vote The levy needs 60 per cent of the votes cast.

The general obligation bond issue is the second attempt by City Council to improve the local sewage situation.

A referendum vote last fall killed Council's first attempt. That was a proposal to issue mortgage revenue bonds to finance sewage plant improvement.

Under the mortgage revenue plan, the bonds would be paid off by a sewer service charge, rather than by real estate taxpayers, as is the case with the general obligation bond issue to be voted on next week.

THE MORTGAGE PLAN was favored by a majority of councilmen because 1.) Only persons using the sewage system would pay for the improvements, and 2.) The sewer service charge not only would pay off the bonds but could be used for maintenance costs, as well as improvements in the sewer lines leading to the plant.

The sewer service charge was to be based on the quantity of water used by home owners and business places under the theory the more water used, the more sewer lines would be used.

The plan was approved by a 6-3 vote. Voting against it were Councilmen Jenkins, 2nd Ward; Rinehart, 3rd Ward, and the late Councilman Sanden, 6th Ward.

Opponents of the mortgage plan favored the general obligation bond issue because they believed tax collections would be more efficient under the existing real estate tax system in contrast to the sewer service charge. The latter would require a new city collection department and the cooperation of the Marion Water Co. in forwarding the water bills on which the charge was to be based, they contended. A second objection was that while sanitary sewers are not now available in all sections of the city, the probability is that they will be in the future and therefore all real estate taxpayers should share the cost.

THEY ALSO OBJECTED to the proponents' second point: that the sewer service charge would pay for the bonds, as well as maintenance and repair costs They feared that the charge might run long after the bonds were paid off, with the money used to finance many other sewer projects. They preferred to have specific amounts of money voted for specific projects, given the public closer control over the sewer program.

Bids on the bonds were advertised and accepted but before the plan could carried out, its opponents circulated referendum petitions to take the question before the voters Council's plan lost in last Novemer's election by a 32-vote margin.

Had the mortgage legislation passed as an emergency measure, a referendum would not have been allowed It needed two more votes to pass as an emergency, however.

COUNCILMAN NEWTON Cunningham, an advocate of the mortgage revenue plan, said he will renew his fight for that plan if the general obligation bond issue is defeated next week.

He is anxious to get the necessary rebuilding done because he believes delay adds to the total cost

He said the delay brought about by the referendum has increased the cost of a new plant by $100,000, which represents increased cost of labor and building materials He fears another delay could boost the cost of the project by another $100,000.

(Tomorrow's article will deal with the $600,000 bond ssue, telling what will be done with the money)

TWA Recommendation

A three-year extension of trans World Airlines service to Zanesville on an east-west Columbus-to-Pittsburgh route also was recommended by Radcliffe, who said, too, that TWA should be obliged to operate through either Marion or Mansfield, Ohio and Fort Wayne, Ind, on its Pittsbugh-to-Chicago route another three years.

Both Mansfield and Marion representatives have told the board they want service at their own airports, not at a joint terminal. They also say they want north-south local service offered by Lake Central to replace similar trunk service that TWA no longer offers them.

New Hope In Britain, Iran Oil Deadlock

Iranian Premier Interested in New U. S. Proposals

WASHINGTON, Oct 30—(AP)—Reaction to a two-step American plan appears to have buoyed state department hopes that Iran and Britain may reach a settlement uncorking the flow of Iranian oil to the West

Premier Mohammed Mossadegh of Iran is sufficiently interested in American suggestions to prolong his stay in the capital for further talks on the problem. He originally was to have flown home last week-end, but is still here, with no departure date fixed.

Responsible informants said American mediators are trying not only to persuade Iran and Britain to resume direct talks but to agree on a stop-gap plan for moving available refined oil to the West.

This two-fold approach reportedly is based on an American belief that weeks, perhaps months, of detailed talks may be necessary before the British and Iranians agree on a permanent settlement and put it into effect, even after they resume face-to-face conferences.

Nasrollah Entezman, Iranian who is president of the United Nations general assembly, told newsmen in New York he anticipates a settlement outside the U N

Meanwhile, the state department believes some temporary arrangement to move $40,000,000 worth of Iranian oil products now stored in huge tanks near the Abadan refinery should be worked out.

Under the reported plan, the refined products would be sold, with receipts from sales to tankers going to Iran Who would get the products and collect distribution profits, was not reported.

About 2,000,000 tons of refined oil, ranging from high-grade aviation fuel to diesel oil and kerosene, is involved.

The state department has thrown a tight curtain of secrecy around the talks between the ailing Mossadegh and American negotiators, led by Assistant Secretary of State George McGhee, a former oil man.

Presumably today's, like last Sunday's, was a drop from an airplane. The airlanes between here and Albuquerque, N M., were ordered cleared of other craft during the night.

It was learned yesterday that seismographic equipment has been set up in Las Vegas to measure shock waves. Neither of the first two blasts were felt here, although sound waves of the second detonation Sunday carried as far as 225 miles in other directions.

to $1,501,500. Attempts have been made in the past to adjust this arrearage through various recapitalization plans which were not consummated because of lack of the required support of shareholders As arrears are eliminated either by the payment in cash from time to time or by a recapitalization plan acceptable to shareholders. the company acquires a sounder financial position and improves its credit standing, a company spokesman said.

The fourth quarter preferred stock dividend of $1.75 per share continues a series of current dividend payments which have been made since 1947, thereby preventing the further accumulation of preferred stock arrears.

Both the $14 and $1 75 per share payments are payable on Dec. 10 to shareholders of record as of Nov. 19.

Nine-Month Earnings

Earnings of $863,804 for the first nine months of this year, after estimated provision for Federal equal to $3 13 per share of comdends on the preferred stock, is eual to $3 13 per share of common stock. This compares with $705,797 or $2 50 per share for the corresponding period a year ago.

The nine-month report to stockholders issued yesterday included a letter signed by Mr. Strelitz as chairman of the board and Harvey T. Gracely as president and general manager. The full text of the letter follows:

"Balance sheet of the company as of Sept. 30 ,1951, together with statement of earnings for the nine months then ended are submitted to you herewith. Both reports are unaudited.

"Net earnings for the first nine months of 1951, after all charges including depreciation and estimated Federal taxes, amounted to $863,803.93 as compared with a net profit of $705,797 21 for the like period in 1950. Net income for the nine months, after making provision for current year dividends to date on the preferred stock, and without giving consideration to dividend arrearages thereon, amounted to $3 13 per common share as compared with $2 50 per common share for the like period in 1950.

"Provision for estimated Federal income and excess profits taxes has been made, including additional taxes imposed on corporations by the tax legislation just enacted and applicable to income for the year 1951.

"Three dividends to preferred stockholders of $1.75 each per share have been paid in the nine months period. At the meeting of the board of directors held on Oct. 29, 1951, a fourth quarterly dividend of $1.75 per share on preferred stock and a further dividend of $14 per share on preferred stock arrears were declared payable on Dec. 10, 1951 to stockholders of record Nov. 19, 1951. At this meeting J. Malcolm Strelitz of Marion, O., was elected chairman of the board of directors.

Heads Health Service

Crookshank as minister of health will administer Britain's giant national health service. As the government's deputy leader in Commons, he will do much of the day to day work of organizing the House's business. Anthony Eden is leader of the House.

Churchill was expected to come to London from his country home for continuing talks with other party men today.

He already has selected eight leading members of the cabinet which is slated to meet for the first time tomorrow, shortly before the first session of the newly elected parliament.

Delay Asked In Columbus Murder Trial

COLUMBUS, Oct 30—(AP)—Prosecutor Ralph J. Bartlett yesterday tried to show that blood stains on George Phillips' clothing and automobile linked him to the slaying of Mrs. Ruth Alter.

Bartlett's star witness was Dr. Anson L. Brown, a Columbus clinical pathologist He testified he found human blood in a car owned by Phillips, a 23-year-old Columbus insurance salesman charged with second-degree murder.

Dr Brown said the blood on the brake pedal and on scrapings from the floor mat was Type B—the same as that of Mrs. Alter, a 32-year-old Columbus housewife who was beaten and strangled in her home last April 25. He said Phillips' blood tested Type A

The doctor said he found other blood stains—although not necessarily human—on other parts of Phillips' car and on clothing taken from Phillips' home

Defense Attorney Paul M. Herbert asked for a 30-day continuance after the prosecution rests its case He said he needed time "to secure experts" to analyze the state's exhibits. The trial is now in its second week.

Judge Myron B Gessaman did not rule on Herbert's motion.

MANSFIELD BOY FREED

MANSFIELD, O., Oct. 30—(INS)—A 12-year-old boy held over the weekend for killing his father is free today at Mansfield Richland County prosecutor Harold Lutz said the boy apparently shot his father, Albert Twyman, 38, early Saturday to protect his mother. Lutz said Twyman threatened to kill the mother and a .22 caliber bullet put an end to his threats.

TOO HAZARDOUS

MANSFIELD, O., Oct 30—(INS)—U. S. Route 42 between Mansfield and Ashland no longer is a three-lane thoroughfare State Highway Department personnel changed the markings to two-lane because of the number of accidents which ocurred in the third or passing lane Highway patrolmen said the toll on that stretch of Route 42 this year alone was 11 killed and 109 injured.

"Civic Quiz" Feature Of Lions Program

A "Civic Quiz," with all members participating in discussion, was a feature of the program at the the Marion Lions Club weekly luncheon meeting Monday at Hotel Harding

Robert Haldeman presided as master of ceremonies, and comprising a panel to lead the discussion on civic problems and proposed programs were Gerald Maynard, Harry Lazear, Bud M. Burke and Robert Wiley. Referee for the quiz was Dewey Bohyer, who is associated with the civics department at Harding High School.

A discussion of the proposed sewer levy, which is on the ballot at the November election, followed, and several members of the club gave talks explaining other levies and the bond issue on the ballot

Cecil Gabler, a Lion member, also gave a short talk urging the support of the proposed 4-mill school levy.

Present team standings in an attendance contest were announced by Carl Meddles A team captained by Robert Bartlett heads the contest, Marion Hinklin's team is second, George Kennedy third, and Harry Haberman, fourth

Robert Bush, program chairman, announced the speaker for next week's luncheon meeting will be Congressman Jackson Betts.

Racing Season In Windup At Speedway

A climactic finale was written at the Marion Speedway Sunday with perhaps the most exciting race run all season. A combination of cool weather, fast cars and a speedy track made the 40-lap final feature race a melee of flying tires, rolling cars, and scattered wreckage

Twenty-five cars started the feature race. Six were able to finish James Hamilton, Richwood driver, narrowly escaped injury when his car collided with that driven by Jack Decker right in front of the stands. In a vicious roll-over the whole right side of Hamilton's car was torn off, and the top crushed flush with the hood. Only the inside safety bar, and the driver's safety belt and crash helmet allowed him to come through with nothing more than a severe shaking up. Jun or Decker of Kenton, received a sprain and minor abrasions about the left knee after he was struck broadside by a stock driven by Dick Grice of Marion, and then again from the rear by a stock driven by Emerson Dyer of Kenton.

In the stands, race fans were threatened by a runaway wheel from Grice's car following the above-mentioned accident. The wheel rolled and bounced from the far side of the speedway, across the infield, and came to rest at the feet of spectators in the front row of the stands

In the final races of the season these were the winners: 1st elimination Eddie Fridely, Marion; 2nd elim, Roy Hobson, Marion; consolation, Ted Rambo Marion; Australian pursuit, Ted Rambo; and the 40-lap feature, Ted Rambo, followed in second place by Paul Hooper, Marion

SIGNS PENSION BILL

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30—(AP)—President Truman today signed legislation increasing benefits for more than 400,000 persons now receiving aid under the Railroad Retirement Act. The bill increases railroad retirement benefits by 15 per cent or about $100,000,000 a year.

Sees Truman, Barkley In Race Again

Sen. Anderson Believes Taft Will Be G.O.P. Choice

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30—(AP)—Senator Anderson (D-NM) predicted today the Democrats will come up with a Truman-Barkley ticket again in the 1952 presidential race.

Anderson, who heads the Democratic senatorial campaign committee, told a reporter he believes Senator Taft (R-Ohio) will be the Republican nominee

Presumably there will be a lot speculation about the Democratic ticket when the national committee meets here tomorrow to ratify the selection of Frank E McKinney, Indianapolis banker to be the new party chairman McKinney was endorsed last night by retiring Chairman William M. Boyle Jr., and thus obviously by President Truman.

2 LAST—SEES TRUMAN

If everything works out as he envisions it, Anderson said he thinks the Democrats will win handily next year He listed as "excellent" his party's chances of retaining control of the Senate

The Democrats now outnumber Republicans 50 to 46 in the Senate. And the seats of only 13 Democrats, as compared with those of 20 Republicans, are at stake in the 1952 voting Most of the Democratic seats are in the Democratic South.

Ex-Soldier Talked Out of Death Leap By Pretty Blonde

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 30—(AP) — A pretty blonde took over where a preacher, a psychology student and police failed last night and talked a young former soldier into leaving his perch on the roof of a 19-story hotel

While hundreds of excited spectators watched from the streets below, 19-year-old Louis Francis Turini showed every intention of carrying out a threat to jump Turini, out of service three months and unemployed, said he was from Boston.

After brushing off the come-down advice of others, Turini saw the blonde hair of Mrs. Connie Fry, St. Louis, in the crowd below. He asked to talk to her.

It wasn't long until he was on his way down, surrendering to the police who took him to headquarters for questioning.

His motive wasn't disclosed immediately and Mrs. Fry wouldn't tell about her conversation with him.

FIVE-DAY FORECAST

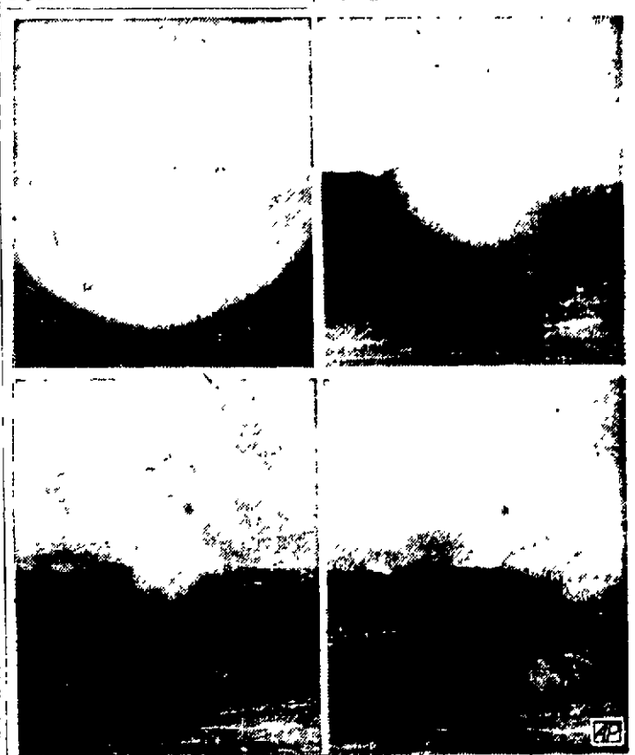
DEER SHOT IN SUBWAY

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 30—(AP)—An eight-point buck deer clattered down the steps into a Broad Street subway station today There it stopped, blocked by the turnstile A policeman shot and killed the 200-pound animal Some 30 policemen had chased the deer for two miles through city streets, hoping to catch it alive

OLD TIME STAR IN NEW ROLE. Juanita Hansen, movie aerial queen of 35 years ago, now works as a train dispatcher at Ventura, Calif., 70 miles northwest of Los Angeles. The 56-year-old blonde, who once made $3 000 weekly, says her life now is much more serene than when she was starring in vaudeville and with Tom Mix, Bill Hart, and Jack Pickford.



DAZZLING FLASH MARKS ATOMIC EXPLOSION. A sequence camera caught these four pictures of the brilliant light that seared the mountains an hour after the sun had risen near Las Vegas, Nev., when an atomic bomb was exploded over the Nevada desert. The blinding flash (upper left) gradually subsided and finally disappeared. Pictures were made by Photographer Art Rogers of the Los Angeles Times approximately 35 miles from scene of the blast. He used a K-24 camera with six-inch lens.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

HEARD ON THIS BEAT:

BRITISH labor's leaders can throw their weight around politically because they get millions of pounds from 80 unions which raise their election war chests by adding a Labor party tax to the regular dues of their 4,900,000 members. This gives the Laborites as much money as the Conservatives—and in many big cities, considerably more. It isn't generally known in the U. S. but the Labor Party, in effect, thus takes its funds right out of the workers' wages each month in addition to special assessments.

Victor Riesel

Furthermore, the union chiefs themselves are the biggest bloc of candidates named by the British Labor Party. Last Thursday, there were 140 union officials "standing" out of the 600 Laborite nominees. From the Miners' Union came 37 such Parliamentary candidates, the equivalent, in this country, of John L. Lewis and 36 of his lieutenants running for Congress in their coal districts. This is what gives the unions almost complete power over the British Labor Party, and over the government when Labor rules.

FOR MONTHS NOW, I've been reporting that there is powerful Republican sentiment inside the 9,000,000 member A.F.L. Each time I've written this I've been taken aside by many a friend in the A.F.L. and told it just couldn't be. Then, at the A.F.L. convention in San Francisco, Joe Keenan, the genial ex-political chief of the Federation, took the platform to warn delegates that they should not listen to certain of their colleagues who were quietly passing this information on to newspaper commentators.

Now, we have it quite bluntly. One of the most powerful sections of the A.F.L.—the men who erect the nation's buildings—has publicly assailed the Truman administration. This was done in its latest monthly bulletin which said that there was a "very meritorious point" to voting for the Republican candidate for president next year.

Who is secretary of 3,000,000-member A.F.L. Building Trades Department? Joe Keenan! And with whom have the other Building Trades' unions' chiefs been consulting recently? Sen. Taft! Now watch for the equally strong, million-member Teamsters' Union to make some similar move.

There's no doubt now that President Truman will have to count most heavily on the energetic C.I.O. for his all-out labor support. And if Gen. Eisenhower is nominated, that will be split, too. But the President is depending heavily on his enormously popular Secretary of Labor Tobin to mend his political lines inside labor again.

ATOMIC ENERGY Commission officials are firing Ku Klux Klansmen as well as Commies wherever found at the Savannah River H-bomb installations. Both are on the Atty. Gen.'s subversive list . . .

At least one company is taking no chances on being left among skeletonized buildings in the event of an A-bomb attack. That's the Esso Company, which has just picked up a 50-acre area in New Jersey 35 miles from New York. Formerly an Episcopalian convent, it has four buildings which, like 12 more centers to come, will be renovated, put in charge of a caretaker, equipped with microfilmed duplicate records—and held for emergency use . . .

MILLIONS OF salesmen who live on commissions will be affected by a special report now on the desk of wage boss Eric Johnston who'll decide at just what point this kind of income will be frozen for the duration. Meanwhile, his staff is screaming for more than the $1,000,000 alloted to it to inspect and police the business world in an effort to enforce all his decisions on frozen commissions and salaries (as differentiated from factory wages) . . . Johnston, meanwhile, has set Nov. 15 as his deadline for holding public office . . .

SO DESPERATE is unemployment in Detroit that Mr. Truman has ordered all Defense department and other Federal purchasing chiefs to make monthly reports on just what they're doing to relieve the hardships of Walter Reuther's Auto Union followers who are watching the big auto plants slow down to a walk . . . .

THE DEFENSE DEPARTMENT has slowly begun to inch towards a 5,000,000 man army. It will move by the hundred thousand bloc. Now the goal is 3,600,000 and it will continue to be raised until the 4,000,000 mark is reached sometime next year. Then Congress will be asked for another million men . . .

John L. Lewis' latest invasion is the Canadian waterfront. There he has just taken the Great Lakes seamen into his coal diggers union . . .

WHEN HARRY BRIDGES called a press conference, in the penthouse of a local hotel no less, he was supervised and prompted there by the pro-Commies' newest labor commissar, John Steuben. They ordered their own trusted photographer to snap pictures of every newsman around the press table, knowing full well that the intelligence services would be monitoring his interview—and that some of the men would come as "reporters." The Party-line apparatus is now building up its own counter-security picture file so it can spot agents tailing its people.

THE NOTORIOUS S.S. Batory—Gerhart Eisler's escape ship—now running between Gydnia and India, is called a "floating hell of fear" by its crew. To prevent the seamen from deserting in non-Soviet controlled ports, the Russians have put them under a special secret police agent called "Szemiel." He has power to execute dissidents.

Halloween For Adults

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK

THE kids have had Halloween too long.

It is time for the grownups to take it over for themselves.

Halloween gives a chance to let off steam. And in the tension-filled world of today who needs a holiday from reality most—adults or children? Why, adults of course.

They should have a Halloween, too, a day on which every worm in the land could turn and lash out in petty revenge against the small fractions and daily responsibilities of life. It might help us all if we had a national "hotfoot day" in home, community and office.

Hal Boyle

Have the neighbor's kids—the neighbor who always borrows things from you—been soaping your windows on recent Hallowe'ens? Well, go over to his house, borrow a cake of soap from him, and soap his new picture window with signs saying, "Stop, thief" or "I never yet bought anything I could borrow."

Is your wife always helping you never bring her flowers anymore? Send her a dozen roses—doused with red pepper.

Does your husband always insist on reading the morning newspaper at breakfast? Get up early, turn the pages inside out, Glue them all together—then hand his his paper.

HOW ABOUT THAT bus driver who always greets you with a surly snarl? Surprise him by squirting him in the eye with a water gun. Joy will spread throughout the vehicle.

And the bus driver himself? He can hand out change in pennies to all the passengers who insist on handing him a dollar bill every day to pay their fare.

But it is in the office where adults can enjoy most hilarious Halloween. Imagine the insulting slogans you can chalk up on the men's room mirror! Or how you can festoon it with paper towels—if there should happen to be any.

Does the boss go for cigars. Light him up an exploding cigar. And when it blows up and his jaws drop open, say, "Gee, I made a mistake." Then pop another cigar in his mouth—another exploding one. When that goes off, Well—you know how much people enjoy the same prank twice.

AND THE BOSS himself could enjoy a real "get-even" day, Going from desk to desk, telling the hired hands, "never mind the Labor Relations Board today, muscle head. I'm going to tell you a few things I think about you."

Oh, what fun you could have, too, pouring library paste in the hair of the snooty stenographer, or throwing spitballs at the foremen and the elevator operators.

At lunch when the waiter who always kept you waiting finally showed up, you could whip a sandwich out of your pocket and say, "just bring me the Worcestershire sauce today, slowfoot." After finishing the sandwich, you could doodle on the tablecloth with indelible ink.

ON THE WAY home you could stop at the butcher's and . . . but, no, every man has his own daydream of how to get even with a butcher these days.

But you get the idea of the kind of Halloween grownups need? Just a day to get all their little frustrations out of their system in a grand binge of irresponsibility.

Only one thing about it. After a Halloween like that you'd have to follow it up the next morning with a "National Forgiveness Day."

Otherwise the world would be in even greater chaos than it is now.

raiding party stabbed two miles northwest of Kumsong and shot up the town of Choso.

U.N. patrols probed all through the area, feeling out strengthened positions of the Chinese since a fresh division moved in to back up units hurt by this month's Allied offensive. One patrol was caught in Communist artillery fire and suffered some losses. Another blasted into the village of Changbangpyong.

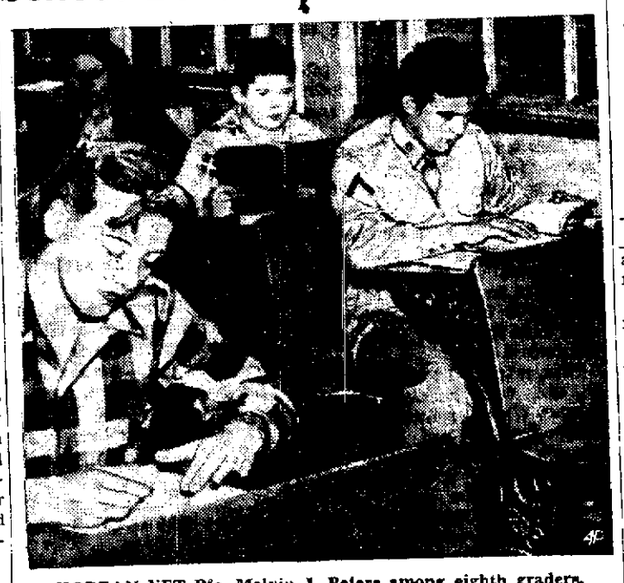
Reds and Allies struggled for control of a ridgeline 10 miles southeast of Kumsong. Troops of either army atop the ridgeline would endanger the other's supply line.

Sharpest fighting Tuesday was in the mountains between Kumsong and Heartbreak Ridge. A battalion of screaming Chinese stormed against Allied infantrymen in the early morning blackness.

U.N. troops, dug in on a ridge recently won from the Communists west of Heartbreak, stuck to their foxholes and trenches and cut down the shouting Reds.

With daylight, other U.N. infantrymen in the same area jumped off in an attack.

Korean Vet Returns To Grade School To Complete Education



KOREAN VET Pfc. Melvin J. Peters among eighth graders.

BRADFORD, Pa.—(AP)—Pfc. Melvin J. Peters buried his pride on a recent 30-day rotation furlough from Korean battlefields—but not his thirst for knowledge.

The 21-year-old Medical Corps veteran spent his leave among goggle-eyed youngsters in an eighth grade classroom at a nearby Limestone, N. Y., public school.

Peters is grimly determined to get a high school diploma some day and is taking up where he left off three years ago when he enlisted in the Army. He used his furlough time to speed up the process. The youth expects to secure an Eighth grade diploma from the United States Armed Forces Institute in the near future.

"I was the worst pupil they had in school," Pfc. Peters says. "Played hooky most of the time. They couldn't keep me in classes." But he added:

"I was only in the Army six months when I realized that the men who were at least smart enough to finish high school got promotions much faster. Not only that but now I realize that to find a good job in civilian life an elementary and high school education are needed."

A native of Chautauqua County, N. Y., Pfc. Peters is one of six sons of Charles A. Peters, who operates a farm in Leonard Run, near Limestone. He has a brother in the Navy, another in the Air Force and two others served in World War II.

Costume judging will be done at the Coliseum. The prizes and the band trophy will also be awarded there. Police are financing the project from the proceeds of dances given during the summer and contributions. Refreshments will be given each of the participants.

ONE USE FOUND

GENEVA, N. Y.—(UP)—Even mosquitoes have been put to good use in research by scientists at the state agricultural experiment station here. Mosquito larvae make good "guinea pigs" in a procedure known as "bioassay," which uses the larvae to determine the presence of toxic spray residues on fruits and vegetables.

Special to The Star

CRESTLINE, Oct. 30 — Flake A. Roberts of Crestline, a rural mail carrier, will make his last trip on Wednesday. He will retire from the service after 34 years.

Mr. Roberts, a native of Caledonia, began carrying mail when 20 years old. He left the postoffice work in 1923 and was reinstated in the mail carrying service in Caledonia on Dec. 7, 1936. On Oct. 16, 1937, he was transferred to Crestline and served as carrier on a rural route until the present time.

His first 12 years of mail carrying was done by horse and buggy and his first motor transportation was by Model T Ford and his route was 24 miles. His route at the close of service includes 40 miles.

Mr. Roberts is married and has two daughters, Mrs. Fred Witcraft of Washington, D.C., and Mrs. Thomas Wolfel of Columbus.

Mr. and Mrs. Roberts will leave Nov. 1 for St. Petersburg, Fla., where they will spend the winter.

BEWARE OF FINDING OIL

BLOOMINGTON, Ind.—(UP)—If you're itching to go "wildcatting" for oil, give it up unless you can afford it financially, a geologist says. "Wildcatting for oil costs too much, too often results in dry holes and pays off too little even if oil is struck," according to Dallas Fiandt, Jr., of the Indiana Geological Survey. "The oil business is so highly speculative that more people probably have lost money than have made it.

Love Triumphant

By ADELE GARRISON

"If I weren't so sleepy, and so comfortable, thanks to your ministrations," I told my husband, "I'd sock you one for that mean crack!"

Dicky laughed uproariously, as he always does when I quote the slang expressions of the boys.

But I scarcely heard him, for I was slipping fast into the slumber I so sorely needed. And I had no worry about rousing on time in the morning. Dicky, who can sleep the clock round when he wishes, never fails to awaken on the minute when he has something important on hand. He has a mental alarm clock inside his head which never fails to go off, sometimes a little ahead of the time for which he has set it, but never a second late. I also knew that he would make doubly sure of waking on time by leaving a call for the hotel operator. But I concerned myself with none of the details, and I never slept more soundly in my life, awakening only when Dicky pressed his fingers gently against my wrist in the way Katharine has taught us to awaken sleepers.

"Oh!" I murmured drowsily. "I didn't hear the telephone operator call you."

"She didn't," Dicky said, smiling down at me. "I beat her to the post by calling her very softly five minutes before the time I had given her. I've already had my shower. It's all yours. And here are your bathrobe and slippers. Stick out your tootsies and I'll put them on for you."

I raised myself against my pillows, put my feet out from under the covers and wrinkled my nose at my husband.

"This hotel certainly gives super service," I told him.

"Only when I'm on deck," he replied putting my bath slippers on my feet, and when I was on my feet, wrapping my bath robe around me.

"You're on your own now," he said. "I've done my Boy Scout good deed for today. 'Get thee to the shower! Go!' "

"Yes, m'lord," I told him meekly, and went hurriedly to the shower. When I returned, he was fully dressed, and I hurried through my own dressing while he put through a call to Faith's bedroom opposite ours.

"The early Dicky-bird is calling, you old sleep-heads," he announced. "When Madge finishes daubing on her lipstick and rouge, we're going to jaunt down to the living room. Care to give us your breakfast orders? What's that? You gave them to my spouse last night? I'm going to trim her down to size for being so fiendishly efficient. So long."

He turned to me, and bowed from the waist.

"On second thought," he said, "I'll pull no rough stuff. You're altogether too handy with your dukes. But look here! You didn't collect my breakfast order."

"I know it by heart," I told him. "Sometimes you may change, but it's always safe to order fruit juice, bacon, eggs, French fried potatoes, hot rolls, coffee, and fresh fruit."

"You're altogether too perspicacious" he growled

"That's a lovely word," I told him. " It offsets that scurrilous reference to my cosmetics."

"I didn't mean it as a compliment," he said. "You're getting too smart for your britches. My next wife is going to be beautiful but dumb, a complete nitwit."

I caught my breath in sudden panic. Was there a grain of truth in his foolery?

New Bloomington Juniors Presenting Play Thursday

NEW BLOOMINGTON, Oct. 30 The junior class of New Bloomington High School will present their class play, "Introducin' Susan" Thursday at the New Bloomington school auditorium. The comedy in three acts, directed by Miss Martha Horne, was written by Jay Tobias and centers about a college professor and his wife, Susan. Following a quarrel over a trivial matter, the professor, Dick Heatherby, played by Richard Boblenz, loses his wife, played by Ruthe Schwaderer, and she goes to Reno for a divorce. Aunt Cordelia Quackenbush, played by Joann Riffee, has been a well-known lecturer on divorce and lives with the Heatherbys, so the whole household becomes involved in mix-up and misunderstanding.

Others participating include Dwight Harruff as Buddy Chalmers, Starling Moore as Babs Boswell, Jim Moury as Hillington Ross, Opal Rice as Diana Mayfield, Lureca Glenn as Violet, James Boblenz as Cyclone, Elmer Hunt as Jim Donovan, Charles Snare as Mike, John James as Ike and James Barrows as the messenger.

In the golden age of whaling between 1833 and 1863, America had as many as 675 ships on the seas seeking the great ocean mammal.

Carey Plans Action On Traffic Violators

Special to The Star

CAREY — Mayor G. C. Wagner, Village Manager Theadore Ridley and Police Chief Henry Pieracini met this week with William Howard, Allen Smith Jr., and Richard Brown, members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce committee, to discuss Carey's traffic violations and a possible means of reducing them. School Superintendent G. A. Hartman was a guest of the group.

It was agreed that in the future the names of those arrested for traffic violations will be published. Also planned is an educational campaign to remind the public of violations of traffic regulations such as jay walking, speeding and running red lights. The Junior Chamber of Commerce will make a survey of all Carey traffic accidents in the past five years to study the causes.

Friendly Poker Game

By FRANK TRIPP

WHAT'S the nearest you ever came to being killed?" One of the fellows around the poker table asked during the recess when the host brought in the midnight repast. He asked it more directly of Corky, whose pet expression is "You slay me!"

Corky, for Corcoran, is a swell guy but at that moment we were six victims of his prowess who wouldn't have cared much if he had been slain before we met him. We were stuffing down a fine lunch like pagans to gain more time to recoup our losses.

TRIPP

For Corky had all the chips; and had been known to quit a game suddenly and unexpectedly; laid it on his 'old Lady' who couldn't sleep till he got home—so he said.

So it was after Corky left—with most of the dough—that the tension eased and one by one the pals told of their narrow escapes from death. Scotty was voted Grand Exalted Liar—for life.

Scott and Dick were in the war but war incidents were parried, to keep the peace, 'cause Scotty was a Marine and Dick in the Army. You'd think they fought on different sides when they talked war.

That's why Scotty had to confine himself to the bull story that he told, while Dick razzed him. I'm not sure; maybe you'll believe it.

"I WAS BROUGHT UP on a farm," Scotty related. "My father always kept a bull and he didn't think one worth keeping unless he was the meanest critter in the county. When I was about 14 he had the worst one of the lot, a black devil with an ugly brindle face and a neck like a bulldozer. We called him Nitro Glycerine—Nitro for short.

"One day I walked up to Nitro's pen to tease him with my new red shirt," the hero went on. "The husky fence fell like a matchbox before Nitro's onrush. He roared and he lowed and lowered his horns into the earth at my very feet.

"When he straightened up I was hanging on his horns by my new red shirt, just by one sleeve. He tried to shake me off but I had the presence of mind to grab him by the ears and swing astride his neck."

EVEN THE DEALER paused, with a card in midair. Scotty went on: 'He c-r-a-s-h-e-d right through the sturdy barn door, thinking of course to crush me against it. But I was too smart for him. I clung flat to his neck and never got a scratch.

"Inside the barn he arched his back, flung his frothing nostrils into the air, to throw me off. That was my chance. I let him throw me. And brother, he did; way back to the farthest corner of the haymow.'

"And I suppose they didn't get you out till next hayin' time," said Dick.

"Yes, they did," said unruffled Scotty, "but they couldn't get the bull out of the barn until he chased my red shirt back to the bull pen. There he caught up to me again—"

"And kissed you," blurted Dick—"She's open for two whites."

"No he didn't kiss me. When he lunged to gore me I nimbly dove aside. Foiled, he crashed his head into a concrete watering trough and—"

"And drowned," razzed Dick—"I'll take three cards."

"No, not drowned. He just plain hit it so hard that my father had to kill him."

THUS ENDED Scotty's harrowing tale. Everybody groaned. The bettings went on and Dick took over:

"I remember the incident well," he said. "What a small world. To think that you and I should meet after all these years.

"It was my father who bought old Nitro's carcass from your dad. Pop was a taxidermist. He stuffed Nitro's hide and sold it to the American Tobacco Company. That's Nitro's picture on those sacks of Bull Durham."

More groans, as Dick added: "Finally the bull came back on pop's hands again."

"Then I suppose he sold it to Sitting Bull," countered Scotty.

"No, he gave it to Stonewall Jackson's son-in-law, and it stood for 30 years on the site of the Battle of Bull Run. Today it is—"

"Yeah, let's hear; just where is the bull now?" risked Scotty—with his neck 'way out. Then he got it:

"You ought to know; you spent your life shooting it."

Somebody said: "I'll raise you five"—and I passed.

Drawing to bobtails is only half the fun of a friendly poker game.

AUTO INVENTION

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn.—(UP)—The newest automobile device on the market is a watch that fastens to your steering wheel. The movement of the wheel keeps it wound. The manufacturers say five miles of city driving, or 20 miles in the country, will keep it wound for nine days. If you're parked all the time, there's a standard button for winding it by hand.

Scouter's Halloween Party Set Tonight

A Scouter's Halloween party has been planned for tonight at Camp Owens south of Marion. Attending will be Scout chairmen, commissioners, and all other registered Scouters.

Persons attending not in mask will be admitted after paying a 25 cent fine, Robert T. Mason Jr., general chairman, announced. Table service and a covered dish should be taken. Cider, apples and doughnuts will be furnished by the council. The party is scheduled to get under way at 7:30.

BERKELY, Calif.— (UP) — A colorful shrub that grows along our highways is a deadly killer. Less than 2/10 of an ounce of oleander leaves will kill a 1,000 pound animal, according to the University of California's agricultural college.

Machine Builds Quickie Houses

LUBBOCK, Tex.—(UP) — An inventor here has turned out a machine which will make it possible to build a four-room modern house, complete with plumbing, electrical wiring and such, for $4,500.

At least, that's the claim of inventor Tom Wigley.

The Lubbock man has received a patent on his machine, which is designed to produce slabs of prefabricated material in practically any size desired.

The slabs can be made of red clay, cinders, pyrolite, gypsum and any other material that can be mixed and hardened. They can range from one to four feet wide, one to eight inches thick and four to 40 feet long, Wigley said.

The machine works on a continuous feeder principle. While the mix pours in at one end the concrete slabs come out on rollers, after being shaped and vibrated into solidity, at the other. The slabs feed into a kiln and are dried overnight.

Prime use of the machine is "to manufacture, prefabricated building material, ornamental veneering stone, brick and tile."

Wigley claims he can produce the materials "40 percent cheaper" than by current methods in which materials must be poured into forms and allowed to set.

He explained building a $4,500 house would be easy—"just turn on the machine and turn the slabs out in the sizes needed."

However, before making the first house he wants to sell rights to the machine or make financial arrangements for manufacture of the product.

Metropolitan Soprano To Sing

Eleanor Steber To Open Concert Series Thursday

The Marion Community Concert Association this week will launch the 1951-52 series of three programs

For the first concert of the season, Thursday night at the Palace Theater the association is bringing to Marion Eleanor Steber, young Metropolitan Opera soprano

The program is to begin at 8 15 and admission will be by membership card only

Miss Steber's career has included concert, radio and television performances in addition to opera, for which she has become widely known

She also has been abroad once This was in 1947 when she appeared with the Glyndebourne Opera both in England and at the Edinburgh Festival Her role was the Countess in 'The Marriage of Figaro," for which she received the highest praise

Metropolitan Roles

As a winner of the Metropolitan Opera Auditions of the Air, Miss Steber made her Metropolitan debut on Dec 7, 1940, singing the role of Sophie in Strauss' Der Rosenkavalier" She has since sung 16 additional major roles at the Metropolitan, among them the Marschallin in the same opera, and five Mozart parts Other roles in which she has appeared in the Metropolitan have included Marguerite in "Faust' Micaela in 'Carmen" Alica in Falstaff,' Violetta in "Traviata' Eva in 'Die Meistersinger' the title role of Massenet's 'Manon' Mimi in 'La Boheme' and Elisabetta in Don Carlo"

Also playing a vital part in Miss Steber's career has been radio with her name particularly associated with the Voice of Firestone program on which she sang regularly for a number of years and on which she still is a constant guest When the program was first televised, Miss Steber was the star and she since has appeared in more than 30 telecasts

Compositions by such well known and popular composers as Schubert, Samuel Barlow Richard Wagner Claude Debussy and Johann Strauss will be heard on the program given by Miss Steber

Opening Numbers

She will open the concert with a Schubert group which will include Recitative and Aria written to a Fragment of Didone" (Metastasio), "Die Forelle which is a fable in song form, telling of the fisherman who muddies the stream to catch the playful little trout which has so far eluded him, Im Abend oth,' 'Das Lied im Grunen' a lively spring song, and Rastlose Liebe'

Just preceding the intermission Miss Steber will sing 'Dich theure Halle' from 'Tannhauser' by Richard Wagner It is the striking opening of the second act of the opera and introduces the saintly Elizabeth into the action She sings a greeting to the great hall in which contests are held as she looks forward to the return of Tannhauser

Second Half

Miss Steber will return to open the second half of her program with 'Lo Balcon (Charles Baudelaire) by Claude Debussy, 'Mon amour est bon a dire' from 'La belle endormant" (Georges Hugnet), by Virgil Thomson, and three folk songs from 'Auvergne,' arranged by Canteloube

States Act To Aid Airport Building

CHICAGO—(UP)—Eight states have taken steps this year to aid the contruction and maintenance of city and county airfields

According to the American Public Works Association, the action is indicative of the growing need for landing fields

In Minnesota the legislature appropriated $200,000 for airport aid with $150 000 available for low-cost state-owned landing strips

Michigan appropriated $585 000 from the state general fund to be used in matching federal and local funds for airport construction and improvement

Maine approved $191 500 from the general state revenues for municipal airport improvement But the Maine legislature turned down a proposed $750 000 bond issue authorization for construction of airports

Action by other states included an Indiana law authorizing counties cities and towns to issue revenue bonds for airport construction and improvement, an Ohio law authorizing county commissioners to issue revenue bonds for similar purposes and a Rhode Island action authorizing Newport to issue $250 000 in municipal airport bonds subject to referendum.

Idaho's cities may now acquire land by condemnation for construction and maintenance of airports A law in the state of Washington permits counties to lease property for airports

Forthright Action Achieves Results

ALTON, Ill.—(UP)—For years H. P. Bunyan had wanted to do something about a big catalpa tree situated on the property line between his yard and that of his neighbor, Vert VanAusdoll.

But Bunyan refrained from cutting down the tree—which scraped against his garage and littered the yard with leaves — because he thought Van Ausdoll might object.

Finally, Bunyan decided to take action He told his son to saw off some of the more offending branches

Neighbor VanAusdoll, observing the boy at work, strolled over and asked:

"Why don't you cut the whole darn thing down while you're at it?"

Bunyan and his son quickly obliged

"It just goes to show how wrong you can be about a neighbor," Bunyan observed.

"As scarce as frog's hair" is an old expression However, the Trichobatrachus Robustus is one frog that has skin filaments closely resembling hair.

Massillon Retains Top Spot Despite Loss

through the SPORTSCOPE with A.L. McCLAIN

OUR BOYS AGAIN. The prosperous well-fed gentleman behind us took another puff on his Carona-Carona midway in the fourth-quarter of the Ohio State-Iowa game Saturday and used the term "our boys," in discussing the Buckeyes' success

Many of the more than 67,000 fans were using the same friendly words to describe Coach Woody Hayes' squad after "crying Wolf" the previous week.

But there was the general feeling in this quarter that the opponents did not boast one of the stronger grid machines in the nation

The Hawkeyes were big corn-fed bruisers, but noticeably slow afoot.

SOME CHANGES MADE The biggest change in OSU play was the pass protection for Quarterback Tony Curcillo and the excellence of his receivers, and the rushing of the Buck forward wall on the Iowa passers.

End Bob Grimes who for some unknown reason has been riding the bench after starting, turned in an exceptional game on offense

Curcillo was throwing the ball long and accurately One of his aerials traveled 56 yards in the air, just barely over the outstretched hands of End Bob Joslin near the goal line

Freshman John Shelton from Ironton did an outstanding job of punting and should keep the Bucks well geared in that department for seasons to come

It was a great victory for "our boys," but leaves one question unanswered how strong was Iowa?

Saturday's game with Northwestern should supply part of the answer.

NOTES IN PASSING. Viv Janowicz was a lone figure on the sidelines before the game started The All-American, out with a rib injury, accounted for four extra points, three by placement and one a pass to Tackle Dick Logan . . . At one point in the fourth period, it was fourth down and 43 yards to go for Iowa . . . Hayes gave Linebacker Bob Heid his own necktie after he had made a good play early in the game . The running of Bernie Skvarka was scintillating . . Jack Wagner an inept runner from the fullback position, nevertheless stood out with his blocking . . . Doug Goodsell, most publicized prep gridder in the state last year, may have won the starting right halfback position from Little Walt Kleway The latter is far behind his performance of last season . . . When Bob Heid was forced to leave with a shoulder injury after the first half, the Hawkeyes began to move through the OSU line. His sure tackling will sorely be missed Saturday . . . Overheard: a Columbus newsman yelling, "Read all about it—Janowicz rides the bench, Bucks win . ."

DOTTING THE "I" Two Vernon Junior High School girls had a big thrill in meeting Fred Williams, member of the Ohio State University marching band One of Fred's duties is dotting the "I" in band formations They were Edie McWhorter and Sally Schneider.

WASHINGTON, Oct 30—(AP)—Ronnie Delaney, Akron, O, middleweight scored a knockout over Connie Wilkins of Washington, last night after 2 minutes, 19 seconds of the second round of a scheduled 10-round bout.

Wilkins, winner of 25 of 26 bouts, carried the fight to Delaney and for his trouble hit the canvas four times in less than six minutes

Wilkins was flat on his back and out cold when the referee stopped the fight Wilkins recovered and apparently was not much the worse for wear

Delaney weighed 156, Wilkins 157.

Warren Moves Up To Second Position

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS, O, Oct 30—(AP)—Massillon's High School football crown was a bit askew today—but the Stark County Tigers were still perched on the throne

Chuck Mather's mighty men absorbed their first loss in 21 games Friday night, 19-13, at the hands of twice beaten Warren, but 35 newspaper and radio sports editors decided in the weekly Associated Press poll that the Tigers deserve the nod as the state's best

The Massillon margin was a slim 12½ points, however, a huge drop from last week's resounding 88-point edge when the Tigers were storming toward their fourth straight title without a blemish

A week ago 20 of 32 writers named the Tigers as their No 1 choice Today they had only four first-place selections, along with a top vote split with Steubenville's Big Red

Warren, although beaten twice jumped from ninth to second in the poll as a reward for the startling upset, but Steubenville was only a point and a half off the runner-up pace Steubenville, beaten, 13-6, by Massillon in the last 10 seconds a few weeks ago, meets Warren Nov 9

Hamilton, Springfield, Lima Central, Barberton, Zanesville, Cleveland Colinwood and Fremont Ross follow the leaders in that order as the voters juggled the standings

Dave Rodgers Warren's mighty fullback gained 164 yards in 27 tries as the Panthers whipped the Tigers for the third time since 1944

From here and there The top five teams in the Big 10 have been defeated . . . the second quintet have not Lima Central and Springfield have the big one on tap this weekend . . Lima Central handed Van Wert its first defeat last week, 38-0 . . . Others whipped for the first time included Cleveland Heights and Dublin, along with Massillon

Hubert Bobo, the point-collecting star of Chauncey Dover, had quite a weekend . . He tallied 31 points Friday night as Oak Hill fell, 50-14, and came back for 30 in the first half Saturday to whip Jacksonville-Trimble, 60-6. That gave him a two-day count of 61 and boosted his state-leading total to 241 in eight games far above the 199 with which Upper Arlington's Doug Goodsell paced the pack a year ago

Other leading scorers include Sammy Mascotti of Dover St Joe, 174 Dick Basich of Delta, 174 Bill Henthorne of Cardington, 164; Barney Gladieux of Toledo Clay, 123, and Carl Smith of Washington C H, 117.

Lancaster's suprising 13-7 win over Newark was its first over that club since 1939, Eddie Shuping going 66 and 76 yards for the scores . . . Monty Landis, Newark's sterling center, fractured his right leg . . Mt. Gilead defeated Plymouth, 15-0, after each had lost six straight

Sandusky's great fullback, Ted Schwanger, has added passing to his talents . . . He pitched three for scores against Lorain, and came back Friday for two against Cleveland Lincoln . . . Zanesville's 20-0 win over Chillicothe assured the Blue Devils their third Central Ohio Loop title in a row

John (Big Thunder) Lewis of Fremont Ross, touted as the best back Northwestern Ohio has boasted in years, has gone for 1,150 yards in 136 blasts, an average of 8 4 . . . He scored four times in the 45-37 win over Bowling Green, getting 140 yards from scrimmage along with a 67-yard punt return and a pass reception for 70 . . . Dave Johns of Ashland connected on 12 of 16 passes for 170 yards and two touchdowns as Marion fell, 19-6.

Ohio's newspaper and radio sports editors rate the state's high school football teams this way today in the weekly Associated Press poll (First place votes in parentheses points on 10 9 8 etc basis)

Xavier Coach Has Another Fine Eleven

CINCINNATI, Oct 30—(AP)—Ed Kluska, coach of Xavier University's unbeaten football team is an accident' a lot of his rivals wish hadn't happened

He looks more like a bank clerk He says he never had any coaching ambitions And he says it was an accident that he became a coach

But here are the figures in the last three seasons, up to now his Xavier teams have won 24 games lost only two and tied one Even with one losing campaign at Xavier Kluska's five teams have won 32 games, lost 12 and tied two

This year his Musketeers are unbeaten in seven games They were tied by the Camp Lejeune Marines

Kluska not only doesn't look like a football coach he doesn't act like one He doesn't use a 'crying towell' and he doesn't try to build up next week's foe into bogey men' He just says 'every team can be tough'

Way It Happened

This is how the be-spectacled 33-year-old coach explains his start in the precarious business of building football teams,

'Back in the spring of 1940, I thought I was through with football forever I was a senior at Xavier and my playing days were over and I was concentrating on moving into the business world

"The telephone rang one day On the other end was Clem Crowe, the football coach He told me one of his assistants was ill and asked if I would help out. I did and I've been a football coach since, purely by accident, you might say"

After helping out at Xavier Kluska coached Cincinnati Purcell High School to 35 victories, one defeat and two ties in four years

Then he went back to Xavier

Two years ago his Xavier team lost only to Kentucky in 10 games and played in the Salad Bowl at Phoenix, Ariz It won that one too beating Arizona State (Tempe)

Last year Cincinnati gave Xavier its only defeat

Budge Favors U. S. In Davis Cup Over Aussies

PALM SPRINGS, Calif, Oct 30—(AP)—Don Budge, the old tennis redhead, predicted rather cautiously today that the United States Davis Cup squad will score a clean sweep over Australia

'I think both of our singles men should win against Ken McGregor of Australia After Tony Trabert and Ted Schroeder play a little more together they should have a 50-50 chance against McGregor nd Frank Sedgman in doubles' he said

'Dick Savitt I believe, will beat Sedgman in singles and the other singles, undoubtedly either Schroeder or Trabert will play it Either would have to be given a good chance against Sedgman'

Fishing By Phone Brings Big Catches

MEMPHIS Tenn—(UP)—Telephone fishing is bringing in big but illegal hauls in Tennessee, conservation officials report.

An old-fashioned crank type telephone is used to shock the fish When the fish jump out of the water to escape the charge officers say they are netted Usually, they are too stunned to get out of the way of the net

Game officers say two wires run from the telephone into the water. They are weighted to drag bottom. The person turns the crank, generating electricity

M.S.C., Illini Place, Show In Ratings

NEW YORK, Oct. 30—(AP)—Tennessee remained a solid choice as the No. 1 team in the country in The Associated Press fifth weekly football poll today.

The unbeaten Vols, who swamped Tennessee Tech last Saturday, 68-0, garnered 1,213 points and 59 first-place votes from the sports writers and sportscasters acros the nation

Trailing in second place was Michigan State, which alsc was the runnerup last week. The Spartans notched 1,131 points but had only 25 first-place votes. They defeated Pitt, 53-26, Saturday.

The rest of the first ten included Illinois, No. 3; Maryland, No. 4; Georgia Tech, No. 5; Princeton, No. 6; Southern California, No 7; Baylor, No. 8; California No. 9 and Wisconsin, No. 10.

Unbeaten

The first six teams in the poll are among the nation's undcteated and untied elevens. Southern Cal, seventh, has been beaten once, while Baylor is unbeaten but has been tied.

Strangely, Stanford of the Pacific Coast Conference, with a 6-0 mark, could do no better than eleventh San Francisco, another team with an unblemished record —6-0—is No. 20.

Only one newcomer joined the first ten. That was Wisconsin, which jumped to 10th from 14th after its 41-0 triumph over previously undefeated Northwestern. Texas, which scored a 14-6 victory over Rice, dropped out of the select circle, winding up in 12th place.

There was some shuffling inside the first ten, though. Georgia Tech, which had been hot on the trail of both Tennessee and Michigan State, dropped to fifth Southern California and Baylor. also slipped one notch each.

Reward

As a reward for its startling 53-15 shellacking of Cornell, Princeton jumped from eighth to sixth. Illnois and Maryland also advanced in the rankings. They were, respectively, fourth and fifth last week.

The points were awarded on a basis of ten for first, nine for secon and so on down the line.

The first ten, with team records and first place votes in parenthesis:

	Points
1, Tennessee (5-0) (59)	1,213
2. Michigan State (6-0) (25)	1,131
3. Illinois (5-0) (15)	1,022
4. Maryland (5-0) (22)	905
5. Georgia Tech (6-0) (9)	904

Louis Delays Retirement

CHICAGO, Oct. 30—(AP)—Joe Louis' possible compromise settlement of income tax indebtedness appeared delayed indefinitely today because of his reluctance to announce his retirement from the ring.

John T. Jarecki, collector of internal revenue for the northern Illinois district, said that a compromise is possible if Louis intends to quit fighting and proves inability to pay his full tax.

"You can't get blood out of a turnip," Jarecki said. "The glamor is worn off Louis now. He's through (as a boxer)"

Jarecki declined to disclose the amount owed by the former heavyweight champion for 1947 and 1948. Unverified reports were that the sum approximated $100,000.

The 37-year-old Brown Bomber, flattened in the eighth round by Rocky Marciano in Madison Square Garden Friday night, decided not to announce his retirement plans yesterday. He called off a scheduled press conference Louis is to leave New York on Nov. 10 to make a boxing tour of Japan and will not announce any positive decision until his return.

Theodore Jones, a certified public accountant, said Louis has paid his taxes for 1945 and 1946 and has been depositing substantial amounts on his settlement offer since he started his comeback in September, 1950

Jones, who works for Louis, told a (Chicago Tribune) reporter yesterday Louis has no assets that he can turn into cash, not even annuities. He said Louis cashed in his $50,000 worth of annuities during World War II to aid non-commissioned buddies.

MRS. HABERMAN HONORED

Mrs. Helen Haberman, vice president of Pride of '35, Lodge 79, Auxiliary to the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, received a gift in behalf of the group at a meeting Friday night in the Central Labor Union Hall. She is leaving Marion with her family to live in Vallejo, Calif. The presentation was made by Mrs. Ruby Blake, a past president. Mrs Blake reported that the annual holiday dinner will be held at the Dec 14 meeting. Mrs. Freida Klehm, chairman of the ways and means committee, announced a rummage sale to be held Nov 20 in the Palace Theater Building. The mystery package was won by Mrs. Patricia Scheitrer.

Students Provide Blood for Injured Rival Gridder

TAMPA, Fla., Oct. 30—(AP)—Student leaders at the University of Tampa called a meeting today to get blood donors for a rival football player.

Gerald Adams, 185-pound sophomore tackle for Appalachian State College at Boone, N. C., is in serious condition in Tampa Municipal Hospital. He received a kidney injury in Appalachian's 14-13 victory Friday over Tampa.

When it became known yesterday that Adams needed blood transfusions, members of the Tampa team volunteered 100 percent. They were turned down by doctors, however, because the loss of blood might prevent their playing this week.

Several other students volunteered as donors late yesterday and were accepted. Today's meeting was planned to spread the word that more blood is needed.

NO INTEREST

CLEVELAND, Oct. 30—(AP)—So few students are interested in football at John Hay High School that it may be dropped next year. At recent practices coaches were forced to play in place of absentees. The school, which trains students for office work, has only 180 male pupils. It has lost all five of its games this year.

CLEVELAND, Oct. 30—(AP)—W. H. (Bert) Way, 78, professional at the Mayfield Country Club and "elder statesman" of Cleveland's golf, is retiring. A native of England, he came here in 1900 and designed the old Euclid Club course on which the national amateur championship was played in 1907.

N.Y. Stock Quotations

NEW YORK, Oct. 30—(UP)—Prices rose slightly on the stock exchange at the opening today. Trading was moderately active.

The rise was an extension of yesterday's advance which was the widest in the industrial group since Aug. 29.

Gains today, however, were extremely small with a good part of the leading issues holding at their previous close.

There were a few large blocks appearing on the tape in the first few minutes of dealings. Oil shares, which were strong yesterday, led the advance.

In this group, Barber Oil was a bright spot with a gain of 1½ points to 81. Socony-Vacuum held at its previous close of 35 with 1,500 shares changing hands. Cities Service improved ⅞ to 106⅞.

Nickel Plate led the advance in the carriers with a gain of a point to 40. Steel shares added small fractions. Automotives also firmed.

Du Pont highlighted in the chemicals with an improvement of 1⅜ points to 87½. Utilities were dull.

Anniversary of The "Mammouth Cheese"

CHESHIRE, Mass.—(UP)—Residents of this Western Massachusetts town are celebrating the 150th anniversary of the 'Mammouth Cheese.'

In 1801, Democratic farmers pooled all their milk for one day. At the cider mill of Darius Brown it was pressed into a record cheese four feet seven inches in diameter as a gift for President Thomas Jefferson.

Records of the time tell how "particular caution was exercised that the curd from Federalist cows should not go into the cheese."

It took a sled drawn by six horses to haul it to a curing house and early the next year it was taken to Washington where President Jefferson held a special meeting of Cabinet members, Congressmen, ambassadors and ministers to cut it.

The President sent one slice back to Cheshire—so the farmers could taste their handiwork.

BOY SHOWS HOW

ROY, Utah — (UP) — Tommy Hansen, aged seven, entered a banana squash three feet nine inches long, weighing 70 pounds, in the state fair. Dozens of spectators tried to buy the squash but Tommy decided he'd like to keep it around.

Other Drivers Scare Oldsters Off Roads

MEMPHIS, Tenn.—(UP)—Mrs. Clara Young, 81, has been driving the same car for 28 years but she's giving up driving 'because of those other drivers.'

Mrs. Young said she's not afraid of her 1923 Model T Ford or her driving.

'But I've finally got to admit I'm licked,' she said. 'It's these other drivers they're so reckless. They run right over you.'

Her car is still in good shape and passes the city inspection without any trouble.

HIS OLD HOME TOWN

BOSTON, Mass. — (UP) — Ray O'Connor, retired New England Telephone & Telegraph Co. executive, was born in Watertown, Wis., moved to Watertown, N. Y. and then to Watertown, Mass.

PREFERS GRAVEYARD

MEMPHIS, Tenn.—(UP)—Lee Wilson, 30, got so angry when he was asked to move that he pushed over seven tombstones. Wilson lives in a cabin in a cemetery. He paid a $50 fine for malicious mischief.
